As always, TV GUIDE's Fall Preview is the most comprehensive look at the networks' new series, and the only place you'll find original photos of all 37 new shows. This year, we're delighted that Kate Garner and James Minchin, two of the most innovative photographers working today, captured the casts for us so clearly and cleverly. Each night's coverage opens with a compelling shot of a TV GUIDE Fall Favorite, followed by intimate portraits of the evening's other offerings. The TV GUIDE team—including photography director Hazel Hammond and the best fashion stylists and hair and makeup people in the business—spent more than six weeks creating our photo gallery in L.A.'s SmashBox Studios.

Garner (seated) getting Between Brothers

Garner, a much-sought-after L.A.-based photographer who grew up in northern England, is known for her simple graphic approach and her easy rapport with subjects. She got her start shooting Sinéad O'Connor's first and third album covers, and her work has appeared frequently in the British magazine The Face. For Fall Preview, Garner says she particularly enjoyed working with Ed McMahon, Danny Aiello, and Dean Jones: "They're old school, polite, not hung up on the way they look." She also caught up with Jenny McCarthy, whom she's shot twice for our cover.

Minchin, too, has a music connection: He was Motown's director of photography, and has shot such artists as Stevie Wonder and INXS. His approach often involves the novel use of his environment—for instance, he photographed a memorable TV GUIDE cover of Seinfeld's Michael Richards wearing a business suit in a pool. Minchin says his first-time collaboration with Garner also went swimmingly; turn the page to witness their strokes of genius.

THE SEASON AT A GLANCE

TV is like poker. NBC, on a winning streak, sits happily behind a tall stack of chips, while CBS is ready to gamble with a comeback strategy. ABC, determined to recoup its losses, takes the biggest draw; Fox, wearing a poker face, holds onto most of its cards. And two eager newcomers, UPN and the WB, are just getting into the game. Now comes the exciting part—when everybody has to show their cards. All the networks' kings and queens, all their aces and jokers, are waiting to be turned over on the following pages. The stakes are high. The players are anxious. It's your call.

THE JAMES GANG

One thing you'll notice about this season's comedy debuts is that an awful lot of them say "Directed by James Burrows": Dharma & Greg, George & Leo, Union Square, and Veronica's Closet (which stars Kirstie Alley, left). In addition, no fewer than seven of the season's returning comedies first entered the world under Burrows's steady hand: Friends, 3rd Rock from the Sun, Frasier, Caroline in the City, NewsRadio, Men Behaving Badly, and Fired Up.

What is it about this guy that makes him so popular this time of year? "He works cheap," jokes Kevin Bright of Bright/Kauffman/Crane Productions, the folks behind Veronica and Friends. "A lot of people think it's talent, but really, he's very economical for a new show."

But Bright's partners beg to differ. "He really understands how writers think," says David Crane. "And how to spot a problem in a story," adds Marta Kauffman. "The other thing about Jimmy," says Bright, "is that he has the incredible ability to take a cast that has never worked with each other before and make it seem like they've been together forever."

Fred Barron of Barron/Pennette Productions, producers of Union Square, sounds similar themes. "People talk about how good Jimmy is with actors, but he's also one of the few directors who really takes stories and emotions seriously. Half the time when he's directing, his eyes are closed. He's listening; he's following the relationships."

Sabrina), while in The Visitor, an Air Force pilot returns from an alien abduction and uses his strange powers to help his fellow man—and to battle the government baddies who are pursuing him (think Touched by the X-Files).

FROM ANGELS TO ALIENS

With the success of shows like Touched by an Angel, 3rd Rock from the Sun, and Sabrina, the Teenage Witch, feel-good fantasy is resurging on a scale not seen since the days when Jeannie and Samantha held America under their spells. Bronson Pinchot comes from outer space to raise single dad Ed Begley Jr.'s kids in Meego (think Mork the Nanny), while genie John Ales comes out of a 2,000-year-old rug to raise single mom Harley Jane Kozak's kids in You Wish (think I Dream of Nanny). In Teen Angel (pictured left), a class clown returns from the dead and uses his heavenly powers to help his best bud

DOUBLE DUTY

As a public service, we want to dispel any confusion the huge slate of new fall shows may create. So please be advised that Ellen's gay friend Peter has not suddenly turned heterosexual and joined a video dating service; it just looks that way on UPN. And even though that does appear to be Jamie Buchman's screw-loose sister,

ODD COUPLES

Another leitmotif of the new season is the classic clash—i.e., sitcoms in which friction between antithetical personality types is designed to spark drollery, à la Oscar and Felix. Look for any title where the two lead characters' names surround an ampersand to form an ampersandwich: there's Dharma & Greg (Dharma is a hippie, Greg is a yuppie); and George & Leo (pictured left, Leo is a hoodlum, George, an uptight bookseller). Opting for the more formal and is Hiller and Diller (Diller's a neurotic divorcé, Hiller's a happy family man). Overtly avoiding the ampersand issue altogether is Head Over Heels (about sibling strife) and Over the Top (dueling exes).

Lisa, running around with a gun on CBS, Mad About You has not jumped networks to become a cop show called Mad About Blue. It's just an odd quirk of the 1997-98 season—actors appearing in both returning and new prime-time series simultaneously. In other words: Yes, you are seeing double. Thus, while Patrick Bristow continues to support fresh-out-of-the-closet Ellen Morgan on Ellen, his own character's sexual orientation is in question on the new Head Over Heels. And even as Anne Ramsay goes into her sixth Mad season as loopy Lisa, she's a streetwise sidekick to Danny Aiello's tough private eye, Dellaventura. On Frasier, Harriet Sansom Harris has a recurring role as a talent agent; on the new Union Square, she plays a real estate agent. Abraham Benrubi (below) will still be working long shifts as Jerry on ER, but he'll stay awake long enough to play dream-research technician Vince Konefke on Sleepwalkers.

Doesn't it get confusing playing two roles at once? Not according to Benrubi.

"They're very different people," he explains. "Jerry is more of a Taoist and deals with problems as they arise, whereas Vince is more of a face-it-head-on kind of guy." But Benrubi's not the only moonlighter from ER: Lisa Nicole Carson, who plays Eriq La Salle's ex-girlfriend, will also be a friend to the title character on Ally McBeal, and Yvette Freeman, who assists at operations as a nurse, will manage office operations on Working.

Finally, Wallace Langham, who portrays The Larry Sanders Show's embittered writer Phil, doubles on Veronica's Closet as a guy who can't quite seem to find his way out of the closet. Come to think of it, Langham also guest-starred on ER last season. Maybe there should be a parlor game in which the object is to relate all the new series to ER. You can call it "Six Degrees of Operations."

CRIME WAVE

Crimefighters come in clumps this season—or, to employ network-ese, in "handpicked teams of elite professionals." Whatever you call them, there are a lot of 'em: a flock of feds (C-16); a cluster of cops (Brooklyn South); a brace of bodyguards (Total Security); a covey of converted crooks (Players); a troupe of true-blue time-travelers (Timecop); and an assortment of assistants to a private detective (Dellaventura, right).

BY THE NUMBERS

Thirty-nine new network series were born last fall, of which a very respectable 17 are still with us (18 if you count Something So Right, slated for mid-season). Frankly, folks, we're surprised—in this space last year, we predicted only nine would make it. In any event, this fall brings us 37 new hopefuls. Here's how it breaks down net by net:

	1996	1997
NBC	7	8
CBS	10	7
ABC	8	11
Fox	4	6
WB	5	2
UPN	5	3

IT'S A WHOLE NEW SCREAM!

AN ALL NEW LIVE-ACTION FEATURE ON VIDEO SEPTEMBER 9TH!

ABC			Total Security		The Practice
CBS	C-16		Early Edition		Walker, Texas Ranger
NBC	Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman		Sleepwalkers		Profiler
FOX	The Pretender		America's Most Wanted		local
	Cops	Cops

CBS has long dominated this night with its slate of heartland dramas. But last season, the network's cornerstone for the evening, Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman, showed the beginning of a ratings decline—partially due to NBC's heavily promoted "thrilllogy" lineup (Dark Skies, The Pretender, and Profiler). This year, NBC soups up its triple threat by replacing Dark Skies with the spooky Sleepwalkers—and that could mean some sleepless nights for CBS executives as they wait for the overnight ratings.... When ABC scheduled its critically acclaimed drama The Practice for 10 P.M., creator David E. Kelley threatened to walk off the show. Steven Bochco was also enraged when his series Total Security was unceremoniously plunked into ABC's 9 P.M. slot. Though both men have since publicly calmed down, they are still keenly aware that even the worthiest of ABC dramas—take last season's Relativity, for example—rarely survive on Saturdays.

SLEEPWALKERS

9–10 P.M. NBC

STARS: Jeffrey D. Sams, Naomi Watts, Kathrin Nicholson, Bruce Greenwood, Abraham Benrubi (opposite)

PREMISE: "Welcome to My Nightmare." Sleepwalkers' intrepid dream researchers hook themselves up to ill or troubled clients. Then everybody goes to sleep, but nobody gets any rest. As they literally explore the world of dreams, the scientists find themselves in situations that range from sensuous to perilous.

THEY SAY: "We've been calling it a cross between The X-Files and ER," says creator and executive producer David S. Goyer, who used his own nightmares for some of Sleepwalkers' spookier sequences. "What we're attempting is to graft the science-fiction world onto real human drama. It's the shrink as detective."

WE SAY: Combining pop psychology and pure hokum, Sleepwalkers achieves a cool, campy credibility. Sure, the world these medical detectives are exploring is strange—it's somebody's subconscious. Greenwood's Dr. Nathan Bradford is exactly the kind of mysterious, lovelorn guy you'd want running a dream-research institute. And the nightmare sequences are so convincing, you may have to pinch yourself. No, you're not having a bad dream yourself; you're just watching TV.

C-16

8-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: Morris Chestnut, Eric Roberts (sitting), Christine Tucci, D.B. Sweeney, Zach Grenier, Angie Harmon (standing)

PREMISE: This isn't your father's FBI! The members of a newly formed criminal investigative unit (led by a long-haired, bearded Roberts) are high tech, very appealing, and can fit in almost anywhere.

THEY SAY: "We were fascinated by these people who function as ghosts out in the world," says executive producer Michael

M. Robin (NYPD Blue), who, with co-executive producer Michael Duggan (Earth 2), spent months interviewing real FBI agents about their lives and cases. "The younger agents didn't fit our preconception," says Duggan. "These are not stiff guys in gray suits. They're ordinary people doing extraordinary things in their jobs."

WE SAY: The cryptic title isn't this promising show's only obstacle—the family-friendly time slot is a crime and may put C-16 under deep cover with serious, adult viewers. To establish the characters more clearly, the hour-long pilot is being expanded to two parts.

TOTAL SECURITY

9-10 P.M. ABC

STARS: Bill Brochtrup, Flex, Tony Plana, James Remar, Tracey Needham, James Belushi, Debrah Farentino, Kristin Bauer (above)

PREMISE: A serious, understated former cop (Remar) who runs a private security firm reluctantly hires his loose-cannon pal (Belushi) to help him crack tough cases.

THEY SAY: "When I look at these two guys I secretly think about me and [executive consultant] David Milch," says executive producer Steven Bochco (NYPD Blue). "He's a lunatic—but a genius—and he frees me to be creative in a way I wouldn't otherwise be, and I exist for him as a governor, and the relationship allows us both to flourish. What I like most is that the show is not overly freighted with heavy-duty things. On Saturday night, when other shows are weighty, we're going to be fresh and fun."

WE SAY: Even the producers agree that the pilot vacillated too extremely between Belushi's over-the-top adventures and Remar's brooding detective work, and plans are in the works to narrow the range between comedy and drama. If they can do it successfully, this show may blossom into a rarity: a dramedy that works.

WB	Nick Freno	The Parent Hood	The Jamie Foxx Show	Unhappily Ever After	The Tom Show	Alright Already	local

As always, Sunday is one of the week's most competitive nights. CBS is sticking to the mainstream with its successful 60 Minutes/Touched by an Angel formula; ABC is going after families with The Wonderful World of Disney; and Fox plans to keep its young audience captive with The Simpsons, King of the Hill, and The X-Files. All this leaves NBC in a hard place with no 3rd Rock. The network's popular alien comedy has moved to Wednesdays, and in its old place is the shaky Men Behaving Badly, which, after performing badly last season, is in the midst of a makeover. To make matters worse, Badly is being packaged with Jenny McCarthy's comedy, Jenny, which so far shows no signs of living up to its hype.

ALRIGHT ALREADY

9:30-10 P.M. WB

STARS: Stacy Galina, Amy Yasbeck, Carol Leifer (right), Maury Sterling, Mitzi McCall, Jerry Adler

PREMISE: A single woman in her 30s (Leifer) struggles to find balance between the terminally hip and the totally retired—her parents being among the latter—in South Florida.

THEY SAY: "I have a lot of aunts and uncles who have retired in Florida," says series creator and star Carol Leifer, previously a writer on The Larry Sanders Show and Seinfeld. "After every trip I come back with so much material. I really am fascinated with adult children and their parents." Leifer, who was the inspiration for the Elaine character on Seinfeld, acknowledges her own creative debt to that series: "The greatest thing about having worked on Seinfeld was that I came to appreciate small ideas, because to me those are the funniest."

WE SAY: Many have tried to duplicate Seinfeld's sublime humor, but Leifer comes closest. In one episode, after a judge rules against her parents for doing 23 mph in a 55-mph zone, Leifer's mother complains: "We'd like to speak to the manager." The judge replies: "Madam, this isn't a Hardees." But this is a sitcom with promise.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF DISNEY

7-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: Whitney Houston and Brandy in Cinderella, Richard Dreyfuss in Oliver Twist, Dean Jones in "The Love Bug" (above), and Kirstie Alley as the Tooth Fairy highlight some of the 16 made-for-TV movies scheduled this season.

PREMISE: The family classic returns, with a computer-generated Tinkerbell and a batch of new material. In its ninth incarnation in 43 years, the anthology will feature Disney chief Michael Eisner as host and a 50/50 split of theatrical releases ("Toy Story" leads off September 28, followed by "Babe," "A Little Princess," and others) and original features, ranging from a Holocaust drama to a remake of "The Love Bug."

THEY SAY: "We want this to be destination television, like Monday Night Football has been for 16 years," says Disney Telefilms president Charles Hirschhorn, who's targeting baby-boomer parents. "A generation has turned, and the success of the rerelease of the 'Star Wars' movies shows that parents are eager to introduce their children to the TV they grew up with."

WE SAY: Disney on Sunday is a fine tradition, and the new films look extremely promising. Personally, we can't wait for Brandy as Cinderella and Richard Dreyfuss as Twist's Fagin.

SUNDAY

WORLD'S FUNNIEST...

7-8 P.M. FOX

STAR: James Brown

PREMISE: A better blooper show, or at least another one, Funniest continues the Fox franchise of outtake specials with moronic moments culled from international footage.

THEY SAY: "This is not the Kennedy Center Honors," says producer Brad Lachman. "It's not intellectual humor. It's just an hour of entertainment." Lachman distinguishes Funniest from the highly successful America's Funniest Home Videos: "We're less cartoonish. We're a classy, humorous clip show."

WE SAY: Well, that depends on your definition of class. In the pilot, three people lost their pants, a dog played the ukelele, and a security guard tried to rob his own store—wearing his uniform. We laughed out loud at the last one, but wonder if, like Power Rangers and double lattes, bloopers are nearing the end of their natural life span. In the end, there appears to be nothing to distinguish World's Funniest... from every other show based on video ridicule.

JENNY

8:30-9 P.M. NBC

STARS: Jenny McCarthy, Heather Paige Kent (left), George Hamilton, Rafer Weigel, Dale Godboldo

PREMISE: Siliconized Laverne & Shirley hit Hollywood. Two gal pals from upstate New York wind up living in a Hollywood Hills bachelor pad, compliments of Jenny's late father (Hamilton), a B-movie actor who also leaves behind a series of campy videotaped messages.

THEY SAY: "What we have here is a female buddy comedy, not a T & A show," says executive producer Mark Reisman (Wings). "Jenny is a beautiful girl who would rather be a goofball than a sex symbol," adds executive producer Howard Gewirtz (Wings).

WE SAY: Ready or not, Playboy Playmate Jenny McCarthy comes to prime time. Hard to believe there was a bidding war for this otherwise unremarkable sitcom. NBC beat out Fox and ABC—but who's going to watch it once it's clear that McCarthy will be nothing like the singular sensation we remember from MTV's Singled Out?

THE TOM SHOW

9-9:30 P.M. WB

PREMISE: Tom Amross (Arnold), producer of America's top-rated talk show, loses his marriage and job when his wife (Tweed), who hosts the show, demands a divorce on-air. Amross packs up his kids and returns to his Minnesota roots to produce a local talk show for his old boss (McMahon).

THEY SAY: "It's about a guy who has to start over in both his personal and his professional lives," says series co-creator and star Tom Arnold. "Sometimes people mix the two, and it's big trouble." Arnold should know. His stormy marriage to Roseanne, who's preparing to launch her own talk show next fall, was the inspiration for The Tom Show.

WE SAY: Arnold is still riding on Roseanne's coattails. First she engineered The Jackie Thomas Show to give him his big break on ABC. Then the couple's efforts to build their dream house inspired Tom on CBS. Now, the aftermath of their bust-up is represented by The Tom Show. We grew tired of the public sniping between Roseanne and Arnold after their acrimonious split—we really don't want to see a sitcom about it.

MONDAY

NBC	Suddenly Susan	Fired Up	Caroline in the City	The Naked Truth	Dateline NBC
FOX	Melrose Place		Ally McBeal		local
UPN	In the House	Malcolm & Eddie	Good News	Sparks	local
WB	7th Heaven		Buffy the Vampire Slayer		local

NBC wants to make Monday ladies' night with four back-to-back, female-oriented urban comedies. But liberating these women from their previously protected time slots may precipitate their downfall. Fox also courts women on this night, matching up Melrose Place with newcomer Ally McBeal, though building buzz around Ally might be a challenge since it's up against the WB cult fave Buffy the Vampire Slayer. The question at CBS right now is whether Bill Cosby's tabloid troubles will translate into ratings trauma. Still, CBS will be formidable: Cosby has the right companion in Everybody Loves Raymond, and George & Leo is one of the better comedies in the season's new lineup. Steven Bochco's Brooklyn South has the potential to siphon fans from ABC's Monday Night Football—a fact that ABC is unhappily aware of. "If it's a runaway game at half-time," says an ABC insider, "football fans will have somewhere to go. That wasn't the case when Chicago Hope was there."

ALLY McBEAL

9-10 P.M. FOX

STARS: Gil Bellows, Lisa Nicole Carson, Calista Flockhart, Jane Krakowski, Greg Germann (opposite), Courtney Thorne-Smith

PREMISE: A young, Harvard-trained lawyer (Flockhart) takes a job working for a money-hungry former classmate, only to discover that her ex-boyfriend (Bellows) is working for him, too.

THEY SAY: "Ally McBeal offers a rich view of the inside of a person," says executive producer Jeffrey Kramer. "We are inside her head, and we see her unique point of view about life as we follow her. She's a complicated woman. The material is fun, and it captures the roller coaster we're all on."

WE SAY: David E. Kelley (Picket Fences and Chicago Hope) has created another intelligent, incisive, and quirky show. Voice-over narration and fantasy sequences are given a fresh spin to capture the world through the eyes of a wistful but wry young woman, played with idiosyncratic charm by Flockhart. Last-minute changes to the pilot—like the addition of Melrose Place-veteran Courtney Thorne-Smith as Bellows's bride—should add even more intrigue to the plot.

TIMECOP

8-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: T.W. King (right), Kurt Fuller, Don Stark, Cristi Conaway

PREMISE: The year is 2007, and the secret science of time travel has fallen into the hands of evildoers intent on changing the course of history. Fortunately for humankind, the Jean-Claude Van Damme movie "Timecop" has spun off this TV series, which stars a buff cop (King) and his buddies as the Time Enforcement Commission, working to keep these quantum creeps in the here and now.

THEY SAY: "We took the science-fiction concept of time travel and turned it into a cop show," says executive producer Bob Singer, whose credits include Midnight Caller and Lois & Clark. "We really would like it to be a good ride. It would be nice if we could get some of that Monday Night Football crowd."

WE SAY: Timecop might be a natural for the football crowd, but without a pilot available at press time, who really knows if viewers are ready to face Armageddon on Monday nights? This show may well have a happy future, but unlike its time-traveling hero, we just can't go there to find out what it is.

GOOD NEWS

9-9:30 P.M. UPN

STARS: Guy Torry, Tracey Cherelle Jones, David Ramsey, Roz Ryan, Alexia Robinson (above)

PREMISE: An idealistic and eligible young pastor (Ramsey) takes over a parish in South Central Los Angeles, but his new approach to religion—from welcoming gay members to distributing condoms—flies in the face of the conservative old guard before him.

THEY SAY: "For me, it's a gospel show," says Samm-Art Williams (Martin), who coproduces the sitcom with creator Ed. Weinberger (Taxi, Amen). "If you put a serious spin on this kind of material, nobody listens. But some of the hypocrisy people show in the name of religion is what gives us our comedy."

WE SAY: There are so many conflicting elements—gospel music, sexual energy, Bible readings, physical shtick, social messages, street jive—that it shouldn't work. But somehow it all comes together in an appealing, if somewhat awkward, package. And hey, with Billy Preston playing the organ and a choir full of great '70s funk singers, how can we complain?

GEORGE & LEO

9:30-10 P.M. CBS

STARS: Bob Newhart and Judd Hirsch

PREMISE: "More Grumpier Old Men." Mismatched in-laws—one (Hirsch) an ex-mobster, the other (Newhart) a bookstore owner—go head-to-head on Martha's Vineyard.

THEY SAY: "We wanted to put Bob in a fresh situation—he's never actually done a buddy comedy," says creator and executive producer Dan Staley (Cheers). "Sure, we'll get compared to 'The Odd Couple' and 'The In-Laws,' but this is really an old-fashioned comedy. It looks new again because all the sitcoms out there are about young people in offices."

WE SAY: Newhart is back after a four-year absence, and, unlike the misbegotten Bob, this lets Bob be Bob in all his button-down, dyspeptic glory. Hirsch actually has the trickier role, playing a likable kvetch, the flip side of his Taxi persona. As of this writing, the pilot was being reshot to include a new cast member (Jason Bateman), and hopefully to up Hirsch's warm-and-cuddly quotient. Buddy comedy or no, this is Newhart's show, and tucked behind Cybill, this looks like a winner.

BROOKLYN SOUTH

10-11 P.M. CBS

STARS: Klea Scott, Adam Rodriguez, Yancy Butler, Titus Welliver, Richard T. Jones, Dylan Walsh, Gary Basaraba, Jon Tenney, James B. Sikking, Patrick McGaw, Michael DeLuise (below)

PREMISE: Flatfoots on Flatbush Avenue. This drama offers an unflinching look at the beat cops of the 74th Precinct as they try to police a tough and volatile Brooklyn neighborhood under siege conditions.

THEY SAY: "It's like Hill Street Blues," says executive producer David Milch, "except that we know so much more now than we used to about the true urban-police experience. And they're working in a part of Brooklyn that has more cultures stacked on top of each other than any place I've ever been in the world, except maybe Hong Kong. The show is about their efforts to interact with and intercede in that chaotic and heterogeneous world."

WE SAY: Steven Bochco, who coproduces this series (as well as NYPD Blue) with Milch, has an impresario's knack for getting his shows noticed. This one won't get lost in the September clutter, either, thanks to a now notorious opening sequence in which a policeman suffers a grievous and graphic head wound. That shocking scene earned the debut of Brooklyn South a TV-MA rating, the most stringent label ever attached to an episodic network program. The rest of the show suggests a far harsher version of Hill Street Blues (right down to composer Mike Post's self-cannibalizing theme music). The cast is impressive—no one is better than Bochco at making a large ensemble click—but the pilot's grim mood, restless camera work, dense dialogue, and one-dimensional portrait of cops were occasionally off-putting.

NBC	Mad About You	NewsRadio	Frasier	Just Shoot Me	Dateline NBC
FOX		The Fox Tuesday Night Movie			local
UPN	Clueless	Moesha	Hitz	Head Over Heels	local

ABC's new comedy Over the Top has a production pedigree that may prove to be more interesting than the show. Robert Morton is the series' executive producer and the ex-boyfriend of embattled president of ABC Entertainment, Jamie Tarses. When Tarses got the job, one of the first deals she cut was with then-beau Morton. Now that the two are no longer an item, there are some folks inside ABC who are laying odds that it will be the first new show to get a pink slip.... CBS has dropped its Tuesday movie for a trio of dramas, among them Michael Hayes, a comeback series for former NYPD Blue star David Caruso. If you're wondering why this very adult drama is playing at 9 P.M. instead of 10, the word is that when NYPD Blue executive producer Steven Bochco released Caruso from his five-year contract, one of his stipulations was that the actor could not face off against his old squad mates.

MICHAEL HAYES

9-10 P.M. CBS

STARS: David Caruso (right), Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Mary Ward, Jimmy Galeota

PREMISE: A former cop and star prosecutor is promoted to the politically sensitive post of U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York. But Hayes will not be compromised. He's a crusader who doesn't care whose well-shod toes he steps on in his pursuit of justice.

THEY SAY: "Despite all the lawyer and cop shows on TV over the years, the [U.S.] attorney is one job that TV hasn't explored before," says executive producer Paul Haggis, whose previous credits include Due South and EZ Streets. "David Caruso is mesmerizing in this role. He can say more with the silences between the lines than most actors can say with all the words in the world."

WE SAY: The medium's most intense and incendiary actor is back, and he's still a delight to watch. Caruso reminds us of Montgomery Clift—with some serious, unresolved-anger issues gnawing at him. While the show has punchy pacing and complex plots, the protagonist strikes us as a little too saintly. Maybe that's why Caruso doesn't connect with this character as perfectly as he did with Blue's John Kelly. But when he's on-screen, we defy you to take your eyes off that careworn face and those glacial eyes.

OVER THE TOP

8:30-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: Tim Curry, Annie Potts (above), Marla Sokoloff, Luke Tarsitano

PREMISE: After being fired from his job on a soap opera, flamboyant, penniless actor Simon Ferguson seeks sanctuary with his ex-wife and her two kids in the small Manhattan hotel she runs.

THEY SAY: "Simon Ferguson is always over the top," says executive producer Mitchel Katlin. "He never censors himself. And Tim gets a chance to play someone who's doing two things at once: trying to revive his acting career while becoming a very reluctant father figure."

WE SAY: The pilot was being retooled to reflect both a change in venue (from the country to the big city) and a rekindling of the relationship between the ex-spouses. Based on the revised script, Simon Ferguson is a hoot of a role for the energetic Curry. And Potts is habitually terrific, whether she's playing comedy (Designing Women) or drama (last season's short-lived Dangerous Minds).

HITZ

9-9:30 P.M. UPN

STARS: Rosa Blasi, Claude Brooks, Rick Gomez, Andrew Dice Clay (clockwise), Kristin Dattilo

PREMISE: Two young record-company talent scouts (Brooks and Gomez) scour the clubs in search of the next platinum-selling act while trying to hold down their jobs and please the evil boss (Clay).

THEY SAY: "With Frasier and Home Improvement, Tuesday is a highly viewed night," says executive producer Tracy Gamble (Clueless). "We're alternative programming. Young. Male. Urban. It's the same kind of audience that watched Married...with Children."

WE SAY: Remember all the fuss when Clay wanted to be called Andrew Clay because he wasn't that "Dice" guy anymore? Guess what? The Diceman is back in all his in-your-face glory. If you hated him before, you'll probably hate him again. But as bizarre as it sounds, the gold chains and wiseguy attitude fit like dice dangling from the mirror of an old Chevy. The kids are appealing enough—we just wish they had funnier things to say.

HILLER AND DILLER

9:30-10 P.M. ABC

STARS: Richard Lewis, Kevin Nealon (below), Jordan Baker, Eugene Levy, Allison Mack, Kyle Sabihy, Faryn Einhorn, Jonathan Osser, Jillian Berard

PREMISE: The Dick Van Dyke Show goes to Tinseltown. Just imagine Rob and Buddy without Sally, and with the added baggage of La-La Land dysfunction.

THEY SAY: "It's about a man with two marriages," says executive producer Jonathan Stark. "One with his partner, another with his wife—both are equally important and time-consuming."

WE SAY: ABC is so high on this smug family show created by screenwriting team Babaloo Mandel and Lowell Ganz ("City Slickers," "Fatherhood") that it's been handed the network's best time slot, behind Home Improvement. Still, no comedy about TV writers has worked since Dick Van Dyke, and this Hollywood-as-middle-class setting rings hollow. Nealon, who was one of the weaker Saturday Night Live members, shows unexpected flair in his home scenes with wife and kiddies. But Lewis, who was such a charming loser in Anything But Love, seems to be on another wavelength altogether. Viewers may well wonder why Hiller sticks with Diller—and why they should, too.

HEAD OVER HEELS

9:30-10 P.M. UPN

STARS: Peter Dobson, Eva LaRue, Patrick Bristow, Mitchell Whitfield, Cindy Ambuehl (above)

PREMISE: Two single brothers own a video dating service—but they can't seem to keep their hands off the clients.

THEY SAY: "It's an ensemble comedy in the tradition of Barney Miller, except it's edgy, like Married...with Children," says executive producer Jeff Franklin (Full House, Malcolm & Eddie). "We can break out of the pack because there's nobody pushing the envelope like we're going to push it. It's very irreverent. It's all about love and sex and trying to figure it all out."

WE SAY: Irreverent or Neanderthal? With an office run by heavy-breathing sleaze-balls and ditzy, half-dressed women, we see lots of problems. The sex jokes are endless and the clientele impossibly beautiful (these folks do not need a dating service). There are a few bright spots. The office mates are a good mix. And, as celibate romance counselor Ian, Bristow gets all the best lines. Still, he shouldn't quit his day job on Ellen.

DELLAVENTURA

10-11 P.M. CBS

STARS: Danny Aiello (above), Ricky Aiello, Byron Keith Minns, Anne Ramsay

PREMISE: A former NYPD detective—backed by a team of crackerjack crime-fighters—rights wrongs that are beyond the reach of the criminal justice system.

THEY SAY: "I'm not sure if it has any similarities to any of today's cop shows," says executive producer Richard DiLello. "I think it's much more a feel-good show. It's an urban fantasy, if you will. It's about someone you would really like to have on your side if you were in trouble."

WE SAY: As the tough-talking, larger-than-life private eye, Aiello redefines the concept of swaggering, and that voice-over narration ("Sometimes things have a way of working themselves out. Sometimes they don't. This time they did.") has to be heard to be believed. But the big problem—at least in the pilot—is that Dellaventura and his gang are so infallible and self-assured that the viewer never doubts that good will vanquish evil. There's simply no suspense. Imagine The Equalizer without a single thrill.

Spin City's move to 8 P.M. from 9:30 has set quite a few heads spinning. Michael J. Fox worries that the move to the family hour could cost his sitcom its edge. At DreamWorks, which produces Spin City, one theory holds that the relocation is a spite gesture initiated by Michael Eisner, chairman and CEO of ABC's parent, the Walt Disney Co., who is being sued by his former protégé, DreamWorks cofounder Jeffrey Katzenberg.... Launching Bryant Gumbel's new hour has become CBS News's top priority. (After paying him $5 million a year, it naturally would be.) But the attention lavished on the newcomer is irking some of the division's veterans. All the same, Gumbel may need the extra oomph. Research shows his appeal is strongest with men, but it's a female audience that tunes in to his lead-ins, The Nanny and Murphy Brown.

DHARMA & GREG

8:30-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: Thomas Gibson, Jenna Elfman (right), Mimi Kennedy, Alan Rachins, Susan Sullivan, Shea D'Lyn, Mitchell Ryan

PREMISE: Bridget Loves Bernie updated for, oh, the '80s. When free-spirited Dharma Finkelstein, homeschooled by hippie parents in Marin County, meets preppy lawyer Greg Montgomery, it's love at first sight, marriage on first date. Cute cultural complications follow, complete with in-laws who might as well come from different planets.

THEY SAY: "There are enough angry characters on TV," says creator Chuck Lorre, whose credits include Grace Under Fire and Cybill. "I just don't want to keep writing them. Dharma is a female character not drawn out of pain. She's a source of light, somebody who actually trusts her instincts. She's my fantasy human being."

WE SAY: Dharma is a great character, even if she does owe a lot to Friends' Lisa Kudrow. The "Barefoot in the Park" dialectic between Elfman and Gibson is fetching, but the pilot's scene-stealers are Rachins and Kennedy as Dharma's wacky but sympathetic parents. Dharma comes at viewers from an array of generational and cultural viewpoints, which is a fancy way of saying it has something for everybody. A likely hit.

THE TONY DANZA SHOW

8-8:30 P.M. NBC

STARS: Maria Canals, Ashley Malingier, Tony Danza, Majandra Delfino, Shaun Weiss (above)

PREMISE: Father knows very little but means well. Danza, looking more and more like the '90s answer to Danny Thomas, plays a New York sportswriter struggling to raise two daughters after his wife has flown the coop. His support group includes a ubiquitous doorman and a curvaceous, salsa-tongued assistant.

THEY SAY: "Wholesome does not cancel out witty and funny," says Danza, also an executive producer of the series. "I want this to be an adult show kids will be able to watch. I don't want to sound like a dope, but kids are one of the most important things we have. I've been a parent since I was 19, and I'm still trying to get it right."

WE SAY: Danza gets it right about half the time so far. The daughters are hilarious: a teen delinquent, and a pubescent neurotic who writes poetry and worries about her health ("Dad, what rhymes with cholera?"). The supporting players, however, have a whiff of Central Casting about them. But producers say the problem is being addressed: The wonderful Dean Stockwell has just been added to the cast—and Danza's winning persona makes up for any number of weaknesses.

WEDNESDAY

BUILT TO LAST

8:30-9 P.M. NBC

STARZ: Royale Watkins (front), Natalie Desselle, J. Lamont Pope, Paul Winfield, Denise Dowse, Geoffrey Owens, Jeremy Suarez (on ladder)

PREMISE: A khaki-wearing Ivy Leaguer (Watkins) gives up his dream of a Hollywood computer career after his dad (Winfield) has a mild heart attack. Now he's running the family's contracting business.

THEY SAY: Loosely based on stand-up comic Watkin's own real-life background as one of 14 kids in a middle-class household, "this is a family show with a difference," says executive producer David Duclon (Family Matters). "Royale's humor has real crossover appeal, and because the kids are older than typical teens, the storylines can be more adult."

WE SAY: This is NBC's attempt to wedge some ethnic diversity into its schedule, so don't expect Wayans Bros. wackiness when genial upscale, Cosby-type humor will do for target yuppie viewers. The pilot was reshot to clarify some confusing family relationships and tone down the sexual innuendos, but the producers also need to smarten up the comedy. Youngest sibling Suarez, of "Jerry Maguire" fame, is cute—but not so cute that he can be the punch line for every scene.

PUBLIC EYE WITH BRYANT GUMBEL

9-10 P.M. CBS

STARS: Bryant Gumbel (right), Bernard Goldberg, Derek McGinty, Maggie Cooper, Peter Van Sant, Alison Stewart

PREMISE: An hour-long news-magazine that combines traditional taped reports with live interviews and commentary.

THEY SAY: "This show is being designed around Bryant's strengths as a broadcast journalist," says executive producer Michael Rubin (Coast to Coast). "He has perfect pitch, the right blend of passion and intellectual curiosity. Nothing will be off-limits for us. We're a live show—that's as timely as you can get."

WE SAY: The network has been coy about the show's precise format and content, but the basic idea has promise. The cadre of correspondents is an intriguing blend of veteran newsies (Goldberg and Van Sant) and fresh faces (McGinty, Cooper, and Stewart). Gumbel is arguably television's best interviewer and an anchor who is uniquely self-possessed, articulate, and quick on his feet. He has vowed that Public Eye will disdain tabloidy or sensationalistic stories and instead stake its success on energy and spontaneity. Will Gumbel succeed in making the move from morning to night? Well, the statistics are on his side: Former Today hosts such as Barbara Walters, Jane Pauley, and Hugh Downs all have pretty good track records when it comes to newsmagazines.

WORKING

STARS: Fred Savage (above), Maurice Godin, Sarah Knowlton, Arden Myrin, Yvette Freeman

PREMISE: A newly minted graduate (Savage) is in for a shock when he joins the rat race. Move over, Dilbert.

THEY SAY: "We want to be different from other workplace shows," says producer Bill Rosenthal (The John Larroquette Show), "so we went generic. Nobody knows what company this is or where it is, for that matter." Adds producer Michael Davidoff (also a Larroquette vet), "We think the same kind of office politics goes on no matter what industry you're in, whether it's the White House or a gas station."

WE SAY: Management isn't going to like this one—but we do. The jokes may be obvious, but anyone who has ever punched a time clock or attended an office Christmas party will relate to them. A grown-up Savage (The Wonder Years) is remarkably well-suited to play a neophyte corporate climber, and Godin is great as his ethically challenged boss.

CBS	Promised Land		Diagnosis Murder		48 Hours
NBC	Friends	Union Square	Seinfeld	Veronica's Closet	ER
FOX	Rewind	Between Brothers	413 Hope St.		local

Must-see Thursday may start a little later in the evening this season. Madison Avenue prognosticators say Friends could easily suffer more of the ratings erosion it experienced last year. And at Union Square, the new sitcom that follows Friends, producers have already fired the series' original star and ordered a total makeover—the kind of changes that signal trouble. Still, Kirstie Alley's Veronica's Closet is the strongest companion Seinfeld has had since the launch of Frasier four years ago, and powerhouse ER seems to be in excellent health.... ABC kicks off its lineup with Nothing Sacred, a drama about an unconventional Catholic priest that provoked debate even before it premiered. The conservative Catholic League condemned it as "sick"; the Jesuit magazine America said it was "brilliant."

VERONICA'S CLOSET

9:30–10 P.M. NBC

STARS: Kirstie Alley (right), Kathy Najimy, Wallace Langham, Dan Cortese, Robert Prosky, Daryl "Chill" Mitchell, Christopher McDonald

PREMISE: Veronica Chase (Alley) is known as the Queen of Romance, due to her notorious mail-order catalog of naughty lingerie and books. But as her office staff is well aware, the queen's own love life is a mess, thanks to her prodigiously unfaithful husband.

THEY SAY: "Obviously, there's a bit of Victoria's Secret thrown in and a little Martha Stewart," says creator David Crane. "We were intrigued with the notion of a person whose public life clashes with her private life." "From the start, this show was designed for Kirstie," notes Crane's partner Marta Kauffman (together they created Friends). "She knew she wanted [her character] to be rich. She wanted to wear great clothes." "And Kirstie loves being surrounded by men," adds Crane, "so we knew it would be a predominantly male cast."

WE SAY: What's not to like? This superb sitcom has smart, sexy, sharp writing and a great ensemble, particularly Najimy as Alley's salty office confidante and Langham as the assistant who anticipates her every need. The lead role fits Alley like a silk peignoir. With her heady blend of daffiness and hauteur, of vulnerability and pointed sarcasm, she's hilarious as an accomplished woman riddled with deep-rooted insecurities.

NOTHING SACRED

8-9 P.M. ABC

STARS: Kevin Anderson (left), Brad Sullivan, Ann Dowd, Scott Michael Campbell, Bruce Altman, Jose Zuniga, Tamara Mello

PREMISE: A hip young priest assigned to a chaotic, big-city parish wrestles with his church, his conscience, and his libido.

THEY SAY: "At our show's core is a man—a priest—who refuses to be separated from the world by his calling," says executive producer David Manson (Against the Law). "Secondarily, the show is about the search for God.... [But] there will be episodes in which God does not show up. There will be episodes in which our characters are going to be left waiting and very upset at God's silence."

WE SAY: Nothing Sacred's pilot—in which Anderson's Father Ray comes close to having an affair with a girlfriend from his pre-Roman collar days—has already attracted the ire of a Catholic watchdog group. But the producers of this provocatively written drama are interested in exploring issues beyond the rigors of celibacy, and Anderson has infused his role with an unimpeachable dignity. Future episodes deal with AIDS, poverty, and homelessness. And you have to give extra points to any drama that does not revolve around cops, lawyers, or doctors.

REWIND

8-8:30 P.M. FOX

STARS: Scott Baio, Mystro Clark (below), Sherri Shepherd, Milo Ventimiglia, DeJuan Guy

PREMISE: A buddy comedy with a gimmick, Rewind stars Baio and Clark as two single guys struggling to make it professionally and romantically in Philadelphia. The twist? Every few minutes, they flash back to their teenage, '70s selves (played by Ventimiglia and Guy), and the present (jokes about sex and workplace politics) gives way to the past (jokes about acne and puka shells).

THEY SAY: "We use the past to inform the present," says Efrem Seeger (The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air), who, with his sister Susan, is Rewind's executive producer. "I don't think viewers will go, 'Oh, God, we're going back to the '70s now.'"

WE SAY: It would take a chemical explosion to make the script we saw come to life. Tired jokes about bad bosses, cute co-workers, and ugly ties make Rewind's '90s scenes seem as old as its flashbacks. Too bad Baio and Clark are stuck in this time warp—and in this time slot.

THURSDAY

UNION SQUARE

8:30-9 P.M. NBC

STARS: Michael Landes, Harriet Sansom Harris, Jim Pirri, Constance Marie, Jonathan Slavin, Jeffrey Anderson-Gunter, Christine Burke (clockwise from left)

PREMISE: A melting pot of characters—including an aspiring actress, a struggling playwright, an ex-con ladies' man, a wisecracking waitress, and a dim-bulb of a waiter—gathers in a downtown Manhattan diner to seek companionship and hurl barbs at one another. All together now: "You wanna go where everybody knows your name...."

THEY SAY: "Anyone who's wanted to do something and is stuck doing something else can watch and think, 'Yeah, I've been there,'" says executive producer Marco Pennette (Caroline in the City). "I think it's a true ensemble à la Friends or Cheers, but we did want to make it a little grittier than most."

WE SAY: Original leading lady Mel Gorham was replaced with Marie when producers decided they wanted a show powered by the entire cast rather than a single star. A new (and presumably improved) pilot was being shot at press time. Based on the script, this shapes up as a fast-paced—if derivative—comedy.

BETWEEN BROTHERS

8:30-9 P.M. FOX

STARS: Tommy Davidson, Kelly Perine, Kadeem Hardison, Dondre T. Whitfield (above)

PREMISE: A buddy comedy with extra buddies and no gimmick. Four single guys live and laugh together in Chicago, struggling to make it professionally and romantically (like everybody else on Thursday-night television). Think male, African-American Friends.

THEY SAY: "The guideline we give our writers is, if it can happen on Frasier, it can happen on this show," says co-executive producer Barry O'Brien (Hangin' with Mr. Cooper). "Often men are portrayed on sitcoms as nothing more than tall children. We hope these men are a little more intelligent than that. We see these guys as the ones the women in 'Waiting to Exhale' should have ended up with."

WE SAY: Judging from the pilot script, the women of "Waiting to Exhale" shouldn't hold their breath for these guys. They're all caricatures: the stud, the nerd, etc. Maybe the accomplished cast will be able to make their characters distinctive and add punch to the stale jokes, but Frasier's a pipe dream. So far, these Brothers seem to have come straight off the sitcom assembly line.

CRACKER

STARS: Robert Pastorelli (left)

PREMISE: Cracker, American style. Hard-drinking, hard-living LAPD psychologist always gets his man; it's just the rest of life that eludes this brilliant, sarcastic shrink who clearly could use some help himself.

THEY SAY: "This is not done up in primary colors," says executive producer James Sadowsky (Gun). "He's a psychologist with a severely dysfunctional family life who relates more to the mind of the criminals than to the cops. It sounds bleaker and harder than it is—there's actually a lot of black humor, like Columbo for the '90s minus the shtick."

WE SAY: Fans of the acclaimed British series starring Robbie Coltrane (airing here on A&E) know that ABC has its work cut out if it hopes to replicate the crackling, incisive drama of the original. The good news is that the pilot shows great promise. Pastorelli (Murphy Brown) ably treads the tricky line between cynicism and self-loathing, even managing a dash of humor and charm. But we worry that the antihero may not be a natural fit for American audiences, who tend to like their dramas gritty but their heroes glossy.

413 HOPE ST.

9-10 P.M. FOX

STARS: Stephen Berra, Dawn Stern, Jesse L. Martin, Vincent Laresca, Richard Roundtree, Kelly Coffield, Shari Headley, Karim Prince (above)

PREMISE: ER in the 'hood. Counselors at a teen-crisis center grapple with problems on the street and at home.

THEY SAY: "I've got four kids under the age of 14, and I'm bothered by the lack of good black drama out there," says creator and executive producer Damon

Wayans (In Living Color). "I'm not here to preach, but I wanted to do ER crossed with Touched by an Angel, something that moves from a fever pitch to a place with heart, that might provoke people to make some changes in their lives."

WE SAY: Kudos to Wayans and Fox for trying to fill a niche that has been empty too long. The drama has a slick look, an MTV-inspired pace, and Roundtree adds a nice bit of class. But we'd love to see some fresher characters and, frankly, a bit more hope before 413 Hope St. becomes what it could be: the best black drama on TV.

FRIDAY

8:00	8:30	9:00	9:30	10:00	10:30
ABC Sabrina, the Teenage Witch	Boy Meets World	You Wish	Teen Angel	20/20
CBS Family Matters	Meego	The Gregory Hines Show	Step by Step	Nash Bridges
NBC Players		Dateline NBC		Homicide: Life on the Streets
FOX The Visitor		Millennium		local

CBS caught ABC executives sleeping and stole Family Matters away. Then it picked up Step by Step. Those purloined prizes, plus the promising Gregory Hines Show, create ABC's first real TGIF challenge in years. But ABC has a few tricks up its sleeve—literally—in the form of a witch (Sabrina, who now kicks off the night at 8 P.M.), a genie (You Wish), and a mischievous heavenly messenger (Teen Angel). While ABC and CBS spar over the kids, NBC and Fox duke it out for the action-adventure audience with Players and The Visitor, the latter a star vehicle for Northern Exposure's John Corbett. The uplifting Visitor is partnered with the downbeat Millennium. Acknowledging that show's middling debut year, Fox brass offer this spin: All the network's hit dramas, from Beverly Hills, 90210 to The X-Files, took a couple of seasons to break out. Millennium, produced by X-Files creator Chris Carter, will certainly be given every chance to benefit from that tradition.

THE GREGORY HINES SHOW

9–9:30 P.M. CBS

STARS: Gregory Hines, Brandon Hammond (right), Wendell Pierce, Robin Riker, Mark Tymchynsyn, Bill Cobbs

PREMISE: A Chicago widower warily starts to date again at the same time that his adolescent son begins to discover girls.

THEY SAY: "You can sit down and watch it with anybody—a child, your parents, your husband, your wife. It's a universal show," says executive producer Fran Saperstein (Hines's manager). "Gregory brings such charm and integrity to his character. There is nothing forced or phony about him."

WE SAY: Amen. Hines is a sitcom natural—relaxed, engaging, and funny. As he dresses for his first date in years, he observes, "Usually by 8 o'clock I'm sitting here in my underwear eating fruit." Even in the pilot episode, the cast displays a cohesive chemistry, and Hines's relationship with Hammond is the most affecting and affectionate depiction of a father and son on television this year. Between the show's warm geniality and its portrayal of strong, nurturing family bonds, this reminds us of a bachelor version of The Cosby Show. (The similarities are intentional, right from the star's soft-shoe shuffle through the opening credits.) One concern: Though it wasn't offensive, some of the humor in the first show seemed a little lusty for young viewers.

PLAYERS

8-9 P.M. NBC

STARS: Frank John Hughes, Mia Korf, Costas Mandylor, Ice-T (above)

PREMISE: The A-Team meets "The Sting." Three charming ex-cons go to work for the FBI in an experimental plan to use the street smarts of felons in high-risk undercover scams.

THEY SAY: "This one is pure entertainment," says executive producer Dick Wolf (Law & Order), who will be changing his series' backdrop from gritty New York to sun-kissed L.A. for more of a

Miami Vice look, complete with snazzy cars and a fab pad. "These guys are chameleons, like the cast of Mission: Impossible, and Ice has fabulous appeal as a bad guy turned good."

WE SAY: Ditto. At first glance, this looks like another garden-variety crime drama until you notice how all the elements—topflight casting, brisk pacing, clever writing, glossy direction—fall into place with the wit and self-confidence of a feature film. True, Wolf has struck out with some of his recent crime series (Swift Justice and Feds), but when he's on, as he seems to be here, we wouldn't bet against him.

THE VISITOR

8-9 P.M. FOX

STARS: John Corbett (left), Steve Railsback, Grand L. Bush, Leon Rippy, John Storey

PREMISE: Adam MacArthur (Corbett), an Air Force pilot who vanished over the Bermuda Triangle in 1947, returns 50 years later without having aged one day. Equipped with heightened perceptions and abilities, he is pursued relentlessly by government and military agents.

THEY SAY: "We want to slowly peel this onion," says cocreator Dean Devlin (Independence Day). "Where Adam MacArthur was, what happened to him, what his mission is here—these all become clearer as the show goes along."

WE SAY: Handsome and harrowing, a combination of mystery, suspense, and action, The Visitor grafts UFO mythology onto a format that recalls The Fugitive. Corbett gives a fascinating performance as the haunted airman. Though the show sometimes strains for effect, it is still one of the most intriguing new dramas.

MEEGO

8:30-9 P.M. CBS

STARS: Jonathan Lipnicki, Bronson Pinchot (below), Ed Begley Jr., Michelle Trachtenberg, Will Estes (who replaces Eric von Detten from the pilot)

PREMISE: An alien crash-lands near the home of a single-parent family in need of a live-in caretaker. Before you know it, the kid from "Jerry Maguire" (Lipnicki) is flying through the air, time runs backward, and everyone realizes love really is out of this world.

THEY SAY: "I was thinking 'Peter Pan,' 'Mary Poppins,' and 'E.T.' for Meego," says creator and executive producer Ross Brown (Step by Step). "I wanted that childlike wonder that adults can enjoy, too." Given Pinchot's flamboyantly over-the-top style (Perfect Strangers, Step by Step), one might expect him to come up with something as out there as Robin Williams's Mork, "but Bronson has found a totally fresh way to play this," says Brown. "In fact, in some ways he's never seemed more grounded."

WE SAY: A "Men in Black" for the nursery set with lots of special effects, this is clearly a wild card in CBS's new family-friendly Friday night lineup. Adult viewers will likely gag at the sticky-sweet tone despite Lipnicki's nerdy toddler appeal, but what kid will be able to resist watching the little guy go airborne? All that's missing is Tinkerbell's twinkling light.

Easier cleaning tip:

Use somebody else's muscle.

Same number of swipes. That other cleaner saved a swipe.

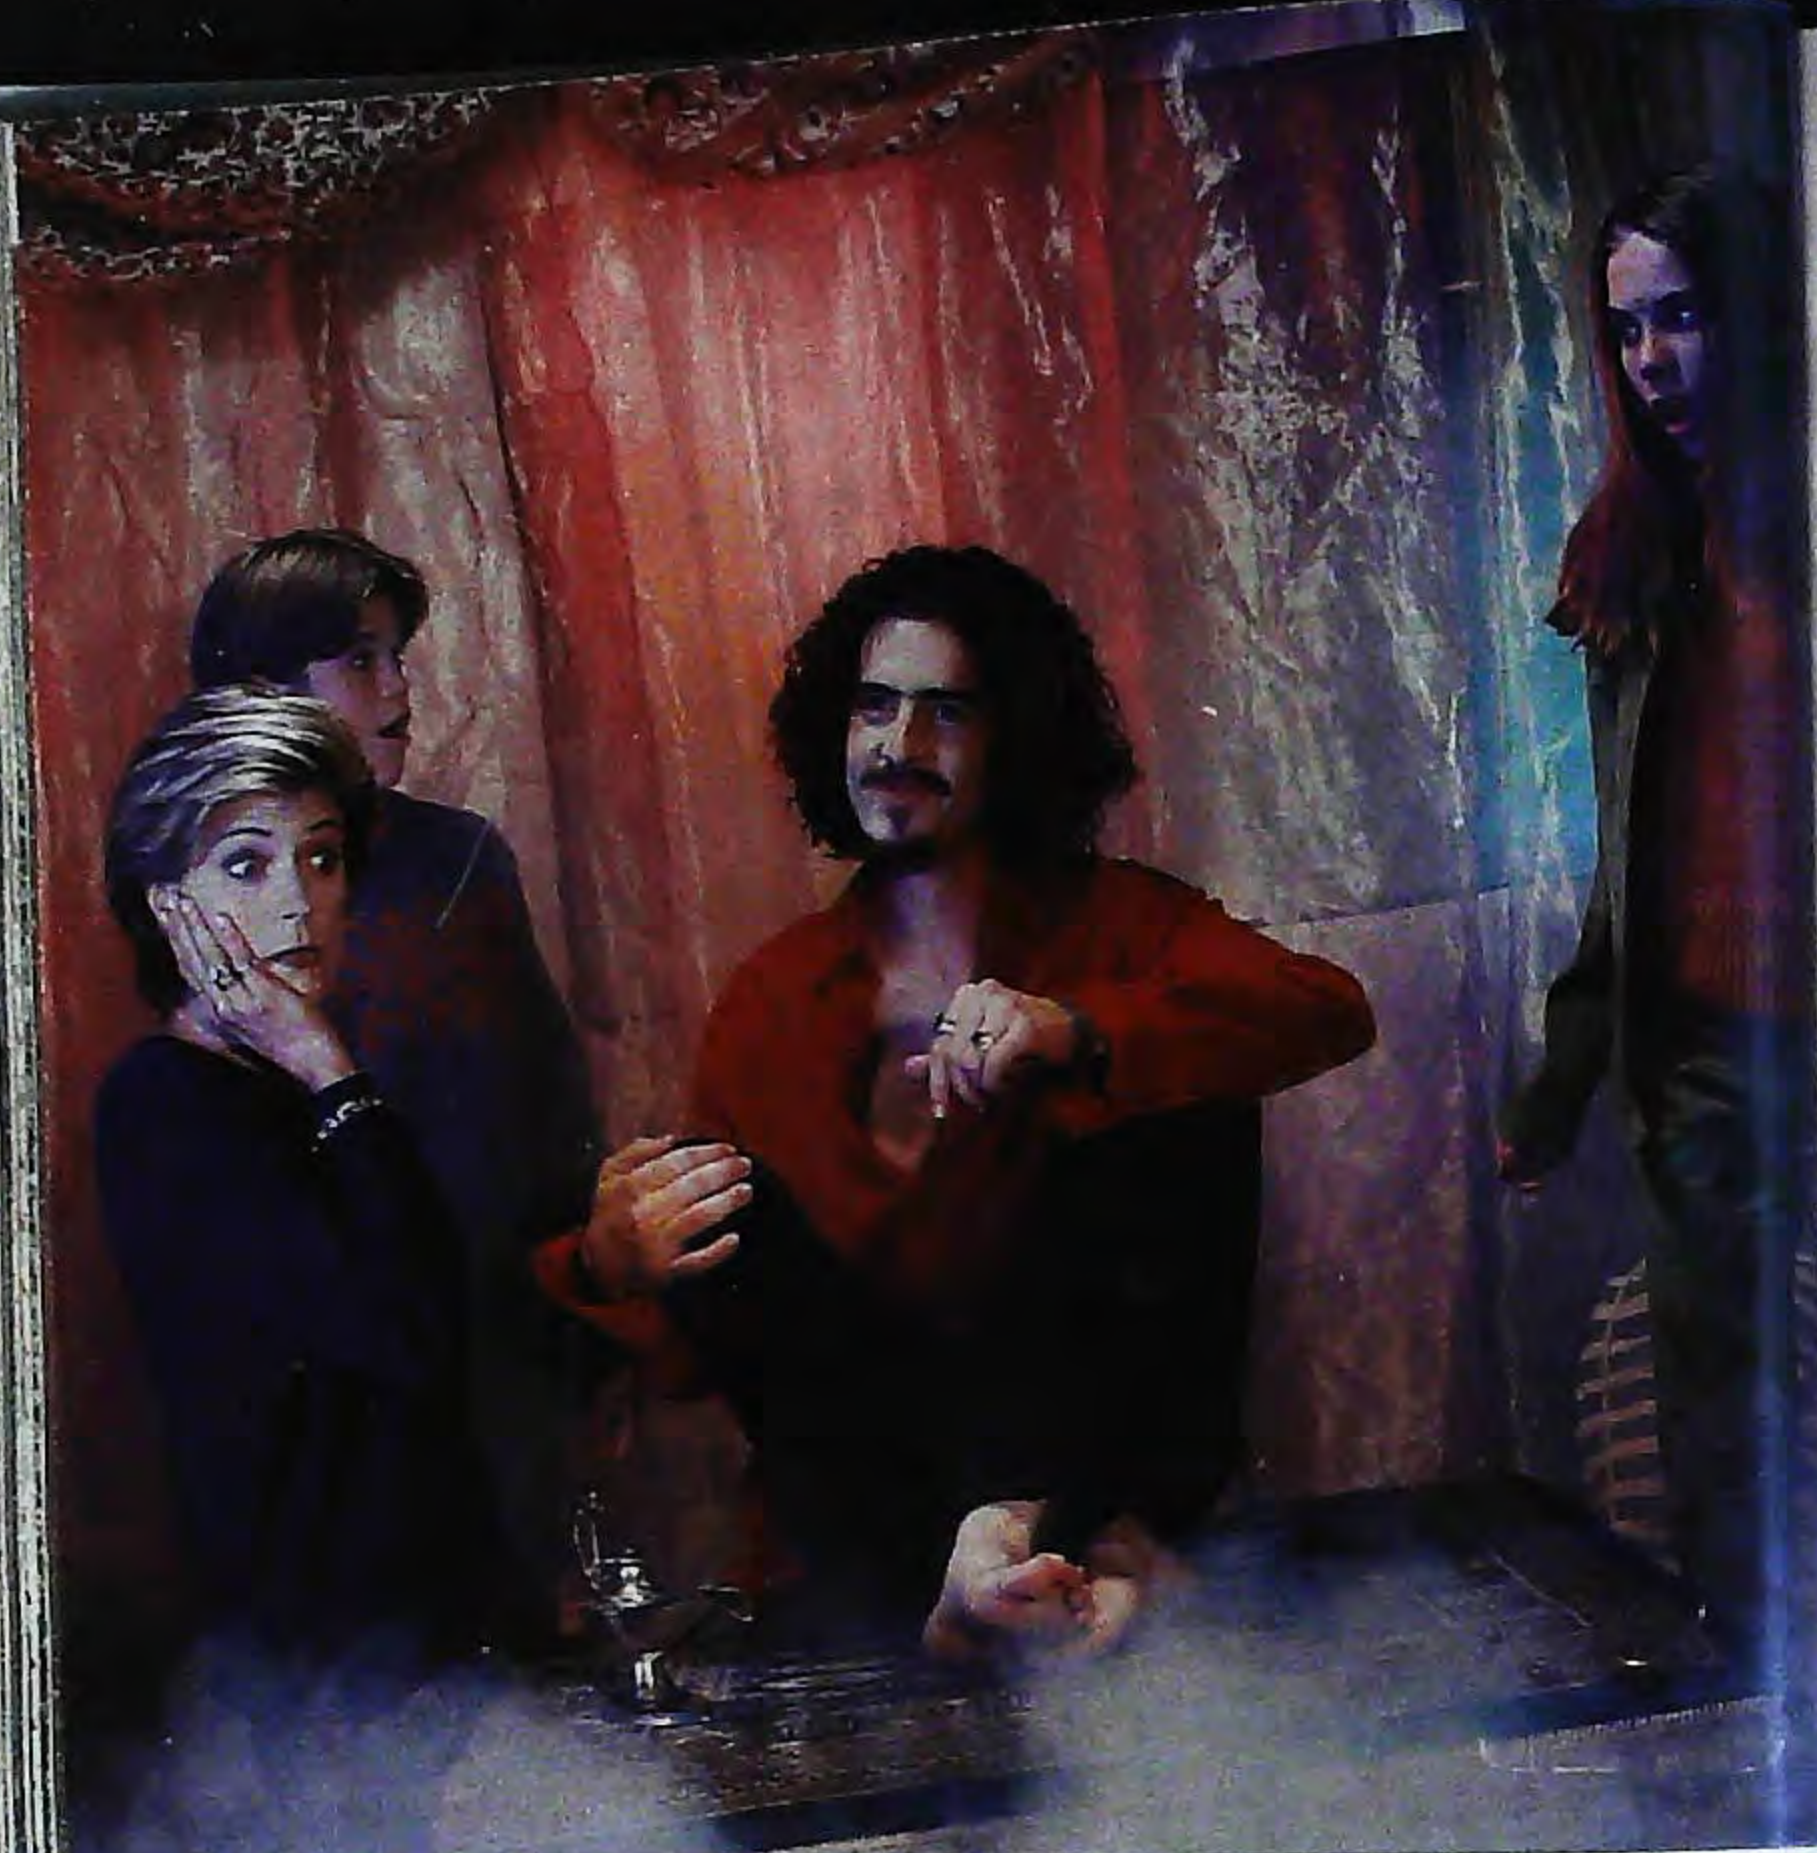

That other cleaner's making you work harder than you have to. Mr. Clean's concentrated formula penetrates and dissolves tough greasy dirt on contact. So you get all his muscle with a Mountain Falls fresh scent. Put him to work all over your house—from greasy stovetops to sticky counters to grimy floors. No matter how tough the job, he makes cleaning a snap.

Tougher on dirt. Easier on you.

YOU WISH

9-9:30 P.M. ABC

STARS: Harley Jane Kozak, Nathan Lawrence, John Ales, Alex McKenna (above)

THE PREMISE: A divorced mother of two buys a purple throw rug and—shazam!—becomes lord and master to a hyper genie who has been dormant for 2,000 years.

THEY SAY: "I needed a magical spirit to spark observational humor about current-day humanity," says executive producer Michael Jacobs, "and witches and angels were out." (ABC's Friday line-up already included Sabrina and the new Teen Angel.) "That brought me back to a genie," says Jacobs, who also created

Dinosaurs. "After being trapped for two millennia, he's let out in a world of which he has only sporadic knowledge."

WE SAY: This show is hammy, artificial, and altogether excruciating. As the genie, Ales (who played Eddie Murphy's assistant in "The Nutty Professor") tries to come across like a febrile, protean Robin Williams; instead he just seems like Dweezil Zappa after a double espresso. The special effects are far better than any Barbara Eden ever conjured up, but the adolescent cast is weak and even the usually charming Kozak is wasted here. But the actress speaks for all of America when she angrily notes in the first episode, "No jokes, no magic—I don't need this in my life!"

TEEN ANGEL

9:30-10 P.M. ABC

STARS: Mike Damus, Corbin Allred (above), Jordan Brower, Maureen McCormick, Conchata Ferrell, John Amos

PREMISE: A fun-loving youngster (Damus) eats a spectacularly stale fast-food hamburger and dies. But up in heaven, he's given a mission: Return to Earth as the guardian angel for his best friend.

THEY SAY: "We told ABC we'd like to do a show with the same high school sensibility as Sabrina, but from a male point of view," says cocreator Al Jean. "Our guy is sort of like an angel with a learner's permit," says his partner Mike Reiss (the two were producers on The Simpsons). "Sometimes he'll make a mistake, but he means well."

WE SAY: This is the afterlife version of "Bill & Ted's Excellent Adventure." But the sight gags are funny, and the cast shows promise. As Marty, Damus is reminiscent of a junior Matthew Perry. And Maureen McCormick makes a great sitcom mom. After all, she studied at the knee of Florence Henderson.

PRIME-TIME CABLE SERIES

Spurred by the success of A&E's Biography, cable has found fertile ground in an area largely abandoned by the broadcast networks—the documentary. Of course, several channels already had a virtually all-documentary format—Discovery, The Learning Channel, The History Channel, and Animal Planet spring to mind—but lately it seems as though the genre is popping up everywhere, from Romance Classics to VH1. That isn't to say that cable is losing its almost dizzying diversity, however; as always, if you look carefully enough through its many nooks and crannies, you can find something to suit almost any interest.

A&E

Remember the Maine? A&E does, and presents the ship's story—along with other salty sagas of drama on the high seas—in Sea Tales (Thursdays at 9 P.M., debuted September 4), a weekly documentary series. Then set sail for exclusive playgrounds of the rich and famous in the travel series The Grand Tour (Fridays at 10 P.M., debuted September 5). No passport necessary.

ANIMAL PLANET

How do you fill an entire programming schedule with shows only about animals? One way is to take existing TV genres and give them an animal spin. Thus we have Animal Planet's version of Cops—E.S.P.U. (Sundays at 8:30 P.M., starting October 19), which follows the Endangered Species Protection Unit as it patrols southern Africa for poachers. Animal Planet's answer to Rescue 911 is Animal Rescuers (Mondays at 9:30 P.M., starting September 29), true-life tales of people who risk their lives to save animals—and vice versa. The all-beastie channel even has a talk show: The Pet Shop (Wednesdays at 8 P.M., starting October 1), on which host Andy Kindler will get warm and fuzzy with celebrities and their pets.

CBS EYE ON PEOPLE

The fledgling channel, launched just this March, focuses on features from CBS

BIG BUZZ PROJECT

THE FAT PATROL

Two Fat Ladies is a) British Bingo slang for the numeral "88"; b) a new series on the Food Network (Fridays at midnight; Saturdays at 7:30 P.M. and midnight; Sundays at 7 P.M. and midnight); and c) that show's stars: a couple of British biker chicks who roared onto U.S. TV September 5 to shake up our staid notion of baste-and-bake shows.

Onetime pheasant farmer Clarissa Dickson Wright (seated), a self-described "food historian and cookbook seller," and Jennifer Paterson (standing), a food writer and "real carnivore" who labels Linda McCartney and her fellow vegetarians "that Bambi lot," have become the toasts of the United Kingdom with their witty, irreverent, and mouth-watering culinary explorations. Buzzing around Britain on a Triumph 900 motorcycle (plus sidecar), the outspoken duo visit sites of regional specialties, sharing their enthusiasm for "joyous cooking" with fresh ingredients. And they do mean fresh. In one episode, they set out with shotguns in hand to bag their own grouse on the Scottish moors; in another, they gather their own periwinkles on the shores of Cornwall.

The ladies' recipe for a successful episode: Take one wild tale of hunting in Benghazi, add a dash of juicy history about a duke's castle, season with a tasty Scottish ditty, mix with easy-to-follow meal preparations. The result: a jolly good feast.

News Productions. Relatively few folks receive Eye on People yet, but CBS gave us all a glimpse of I Witness (Fridays at 8 P.M., debuted August 22) earlier this month on 48 Hours. The show sends video journalists to live with groups of people for weeks at a time to produce intimate, multipart profiles. The groups set for scrutiny include rodeo cowboys in Wyoming; UFO believers in Roswell, New Mexico; and country-music hopefuls in Nashville.

DISCOVERY CHANNEL

Don't know why there's no sun up in the sky? Check out Storm Warnings (Fridays at 9:30 P.M., starting October 3), a 13-part series on wild weather and what is being done to predict it, and Raging Planet (debuts November 23 at 9 P.M.), a series of specials about climatic cataclysms such as lightning and tidal waves. Then go Into the Unknown (Thursdays at 9 P.M., starting October 2) in a 10-part series that tries to separate the realities from the myths surrounding legendary monsters. Also new on Discovery: Gimme Shelter (Monday-Friday at 7 P.M., starting September 29). No, it's not about the Rolling Stones; it's a home-improvement show.

DISNEY CHANNEL

The family-friendly channel is going wild—Going Wild! with Jeff Corwin (Sundays at 7 P.M., debuted August 10), that is, as the noted wildlife expert puts viewers nose-to-snout with animals in their native habitats around the world. Any questions? Just Omba

Mokamba (Sundays at 7:30 P.M., debuted August 10)—that's "ask Mokomba" in Swahili. Mokomba, you see, is a humorous character who hosts a call-in show from a fictional African television station, answering viewer queries about animals. (Why? Don't omba.) Also new—and old—on Disney is The Disney Overnight (Sundays, 9 P.M.–6 A.M., debuting September 21), a programming block consisting of classic Disney films, cartoons, and TV series such as Zorro. Starting in December, the overnight block will run seven days a week. And just who is going to be watching Spin and Marty at 12:30 in the morning? Insomniac baby boomers and their insomniac babies, we surmise.

ENCORE

Being a group of movie-and-classic-programming channels, Encore doesn't really have any new series to introduce—but it does have new hosts for its various themes: Dennis Weaver for Westerns, Stacy Keach for mysteries, Burt Reynolds for action, Lynn Redgrave for "true stories," and Ali MacGraw for love stories (of course). →

Atrovent®

For allergic and nonallergic perennial rhinitis

(Ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03%

Brief Summary of Prescribing Information
INDICATIONS AND USAGE ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03% is indicated for the symptomatic relief of rhinorrhea associated with allergic and nonallergic perennial rhinitis in adults and children age 12 years and older. ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% does not relieve nasal congestion, sneezing or postnasal drip associated with allergic or nonallergic perennial rhinitis.

CONTRAINDICATIONS ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03% is contraindicated in patients with a history of hypersensitivity to atropine or its derivatives, or to any of the other ingredients.

WARNINGS Immediate hypersensitivity reactions may occur after administration of ipratropium bromide, as demonstrated by rare cases of urticaria, angioedema, rash, bronchospasm and oropharyngeal edema.

PRECAUTIONS General ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03% should be used with caution in patients with narrow-angle glaucoma, prostatic hypertrophy or bladder neck obstruction, particularly if they are receiving an anticholinergic by another route. Cases of precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma and acute eye pain have been reported with direct eye contact of ipratropium bromide administered by oral inhalation.

Information for Patients Patients should be advised that temporary blurring of vision, precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma or eye pain may result if ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% comes into direct contact with the eyes. Patients should be instructed to avoid spraying ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% in or around their eyes. Patients who experience eye pain, blurred vision, excessive nasal dryness or episodes of nasal bleeding should be instructed to contact their doctor. Patients should be reminded to carefully read and follow the accompanying PATIENT'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE.

Drug Interactions No controlled clinical trials were conducted to investigate drug-drug interactions. ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% is minimally absorbed into the systemic circulation; nonetheless, there is some potential for an additive interaction with other concomitantly administered anticholinergic medications, including ATROVENT for oral inhalation.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility Two-year oral carcinogenicity studies in rats and mice have revealed no carcinogenic activity at doses up to 6 mg/kg/day. This dose corresponds, in rats and mice respectively, to about 200 and 100 times the maximum recommended human daily dose (MRHD) on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03%. Results of various mutagenicity studies (Ames test, mouse dominant lethal test, mouse micronucleus test and chromosome aberration of bone marrow in Chinese hamsters) were negative. Fertility of male or female rats at oral doses up to 50 mg/kg/day (about 1,660 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis) was unaffected by ipratropium bromide administration. At doses above 90 mg/kg/day (about 3,000 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis), a decreased conception rate was observed.

Pregnancy TERATOGENIC EFFECTS Pregnancy Category B. Oral reproduction studies were performed at doses of 10 mg/kg/day in mice, 100 mg/kg/day in rats and 125 mg/kg/day in rabbits. These doses correspond, in each species respectively, to about 160, 3,000 and 8,000 times the MRHD of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% in perennial rhinitis (252 mg/day) on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis. Inhalation reproduction studies in rats and rabbits at doses of 1.5 and 1.8 mg/kg/day (about 50 and 120 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis for each species, respectively) have demonstrated no evidence of teratogenic effects as a result of ipratropium bromide. At oral doses above 90 mg/kg/day in rats (about 3,000 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis) embryotoxicity was observed as increased resorption. This effect is not considered relevant to human use due to the large doses at which it was observed and the difference in route of administration. However, no adequate or well-controlled studies have been conducted in pregnant women. Because animal reproduction studies are not always predictive of human response, ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% should be used during pregnancy only if clearly needed.

Nursing Mothers It is known that some ipratropium bromide is systemically absorbed following nasal administration; however the portion which may be excreted in human milk is unknown. Although lipid-insoluble quaternary bases pass into breast milk, the minimal systemic absorption makes it unlikely that ipratropium bromide would reach the infant in an amount sufficient to cause a clinical effect. However, because many drugs are excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use Safety and effectiveness of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% in patients below the age of 12 years have not been established.

ADVERSE REACTIONS Adverse reaction information on ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03% in patients with perennial rhinitis was derived from four multicenter, vehicle-controlled clinical trials involving 703 patients (356 patients on ATROVENT and 347 patients on vehicle), and a 1-year, open-label, follow-up trial. In three of the trials, patients received ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% three times daily for 8 weeks. In the other trial, ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% was given to patients two times daily for 4 weeks. Of the 285 patients who entered the open-label, follow-up trial, 222 were treated for 3 months, 200 for 6 months, and 159 up to 1 year. The majority (>85%) of patients treated for 1 year were maintained on 42 mg per nostril, two or three times daily, of ATROVENT (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03%.

The following table shows adverse events, and the frequency that these adverse events led to the discontinuation of treatment, reported for patients who received ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% at the recommended dose of 42 mg per nostril, or vehicle two or three times daily for 4 or 8 weeks. Only adverse events reported with an incidence of at least 2.0% in the ATROVENT group and higher in the ATROVENT group than in the vehicle group are shown.

<sup>4</sup> This table includes adverse events which occurred at an incidence rate of at least 2.0% in the ATROVENT group and more frequently in the ATROVENT group than in the vehicle group.

<sup>5</sup> All events are listed by their WHO term; rhinitis has been presented by descriptive terms by classification.

ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% was well tolerated by most patients. The most frequently reported nasal adverse events were transient episodes of nasal dryness or epistaxis. These adverse events were mild or moderate in nature, none was considered serious, none resulted in hospitalization and most resolved spontaneously or following a dose reduction. Treatment for nasal irritation and most resolved spontaneously or following a dose reduction. Treatment for nasal dryness and epistaxis was required infrequently (2% or less) and consisted of local application of petroleum jelly or saline nasal spray. Patient discomfort or pressure or nasal dryness was infrequent in both the controlled (0.3% or less) and 1-year, open-label (2% or less) trials. There was no evidence of nasal rebound (i.e., a clinically significant increase in rhinorrhea, posterior nasal drip, sneezing or nasal congestion) upon discontinuation of double-blind therapy in these trials.

Adverse events reported by less than 2% of the patients receiving ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03% during the controlled clinical trials or during the open-label follow-up trial, which are potentially related to the local or systemic anticholinergic effects of Atrovent include: dry mouth/throat, dizziness, ocular irritation, blurred vision, conjunctivitis, hoarseness, cough and taste perversion. Additional anticholinergic effects noted with other ATROVENT dosage forms (ATROVENT Inhalation Solution, ATROVENT Inhalation Aerosol, and ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% include: precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma, urinary retention, prostatic disorders, tachycardia, constipation, and bowel obstruction.

There were infrequent reports of skin rash in both the controlled and uncontrolled clinical studies. Other allergic-type reactions such as angioedema of the throat, tongue, lips and face, urticaria, laryngospasm and anaphylactic reactions have been reported with other ipratropium bromide products.

No controlled trial was conducted to address the relative incidence of adverse events of BID versus TID therapy.

HOW SUPPLIED ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.03% is supplied as 30 mL of solution in a high density polyethylene (HDPE) bottle fitted with a metered nasal spray pump, a safety clip to prevent accidental discharge of the spray, and a clear plastic dust cap. The 30 mL bottle of ATROVENT Nasal Spray is designed to deliver 345 sprays of 0.07 mL each (21 mg ipratropium bromide), or 28 days of therapy at the maximum recommended dose (two sprays per nostril three times a day).

Store tightly closed between 59°F (15°C) and 86°F (30°C). Avoid freezing. Keep out of reach of children. Avoid spraying in or around the eyes.

Atrovent®

For the common cold
(ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06%

Brief Summary of Prescribing Information

INDICATIONS AND USAGE ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06% is indicated for the symptomatic relief of rhinorrhea associated with the common cold for adults and children age 12 years and older. ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% does not relieve nasal congestion or sneezing associated with the common cold.

The safety and effectiveness of the use of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% beyond four days in patients with the common cold has not been established.

CONTRAINDICATIONS ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06% is contraindicated in patients with a history of hypersensitivity to atropine or its derivatives, or to any of the other ingredients.

WARNINGS Immediate hypersensitivity reactions may occur after administration of ipratropium bromide, as demonstrated by rare cases of urticaria, angioedema, rash, bronchospasm and oropharyngeal edema.

PRECAUTIONS General ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06% should be used with caution in patients with narrow-angle glaucoma, prostatic hypertrophy or bladder neck obstruction, particularly if they are receiving an anticholinergic by another route. Cases of precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma and acute eye pain have been reported with direct eye contact of ipratropium bromide administered by oral inhalation.

Information for Patients Patients should be advised that temporary blurring of vision, precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma or eye pain may result if ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% comes into direct contact with the eyes. Patients should be instructed to avoid spraying ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% in or around their eyes. Patients who experience eye pain, blurred vision, excessive nasal dryness or episodes of nasal bleeding should be instructed to contact their doctor. Patients should be reminded to carefully read and follow the accompanying PATIENT'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE.

Drug Interactions No controlled clinical trials were conducted to investigate potential drug-drug interactions. ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% is minimally absorbed into the systemic circulation; nonetheless, there is some potential for an additive interaction with other concomitantly administered anticholinergic medications, including ATROVENT for oral inhalation.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility Two-year oral carcinogenicity studies in rats and mice have revealed no carcinogenic activity at doses up to 6 mg/kg/day. This dose corresponds, in rats and mice respectively, to about 70 and 40 times the maximum recommended human daily dose (MRHD) on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06%. Results of various mutagenicity studies (Ames test, mouse dominant lethal test, mouse micronucleus test and chromosome aberration of bone marrow in Chinese hamsters) were negative. Fertility of male or female rats at oral doses up to 50 mg/kg/day (about 600 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis) was unaffected by ipratropium bromide administration. At doses above 90 mg/kg/day (about 1,000 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis), a decreased conception rate was observed.

Pregnancy TERATOGENIC EFFECTS Pregnancy Category B. Oral reproduction studies were performed at doses of 10 mg/kg/day in mice, 100 mg/kg/day in rats and 125 mg/kg/day in rabbits. These doses correspond, in each species respectively, to about 60, 1,200 and 3,000 times the MRHD of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% in the common cold (672 mg/day) on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis. Inhalation reproduction studies in rats and rabbits at doses of 1.5 and 1.8 mg/kg/day (about 20 and 40 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis for each species, respectively) have demonstrated no evidence of teratogenic effects as a result of ipratropium bromide. At oral doses above 90 mg/kg/day in rats (about 1,000 times the MRHD on a mg/m<sup>2</sup> basis) embryotoxicity was observed as increased resorption. This effect is not considered relevant to human use due to the large doses at which it was observed and the difference in route of administration. However, no adequate or well-controlled studies have been conducted in pregnant women. Because animal reproduction studies are not always predictive of human response, ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% should be used during pregnancy only if clearly needed.

Nursing Mothers It is known that some ipratropium bromide is systemically absorbed following nasal administration; however the portion which may be excreted in human milk is unknown. Although lipid-insoluble quaternary bases pass into breast milk, the minimal systemic absorption makes it unlikely that ipratropium bromide would reach the infant in an amount sufficient to cause a clinical effect. However, because many drugs are excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use Safety and effectiveness of ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% in patients below the age of 12 years have not been established.

ADVERSE REACTIONS Adverse reaction information on ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06% in patients with the common cold was derived from two multicenter, vehicle-controlled clinical trials involving 1276 patients (195 patients on ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03%, 352 patients on ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06%, 189 patients on ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.12%, 351 patients on vehicle and 189 patients receiving no treatment).

The following table shows adverse events reported for patients who received ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% at the recommended dose of 64 mg per nostril, or vehicle, administered three or four times daily, where the incidence is 1% or greater in the ATROVENT group and higher in the ATROVENT group than in the vehicle group.

	% of Patients Reporting Events <sup>1</sup>
	ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06%		Vehicle Control
	(n=352)	Incidence%	(n=351)	Incidence%
Epistaxis	8.2	2.3	2.3	0.3
Dry Mouth/Throat	1.4	0.3	0.3	0.0
Nasal Congestion	1.1	0.0	0.0	2.8
Nasal Dryness	4.8

This table includes adverse events for which the incidence was 1% or greater in the ATROVENT group and higher in the ATROVENT group than in the vehicle group.

Epistaxis reported by 5.4% of ATROVENT patients and 1.4% of vehicle patients. blood-tinged nasal mucus by 2.8% of ATROVENT patients and 0.9% of vehicle patients. ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% was well tolerated by most patients. The most frequently reported adverse events were transient episodes of nasal dryness or epistaxis. The majority of these adverse events (96%) were mild or moderate in nature, none was considered serious, and none resulted in hospitalization. No patient required treatment for nasal dryness, and only three patients (<1%) required treatment for epistaxis, which consisted of local application of petroleum jelly or a moistening agent (e.g., petroleum jelly). No patient receiving ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% was discontinued from the trial due to either nasal dryness or bleeding.

Adverse events reported by less than 1% of the patients receiving ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.06% during the controlled clinical trials which are potentially related to the local or systemic anticholinergic effects of Atrovent include: taste perversion, nasal burning, conjunctivitis, coughing, dizziness, hoarseness, palpitation, pharyngitis, tachycardia, thirst, blurred vision. Additional anticholinergic effects noted with other ATROVENT dosage forms (ATROVENT Inhalation Solution, ATROVENT Inhalation Aerosol, and ATROVENT Nasal Spray 0.03%) include: precipitation or worsening of narrow-angle glaucoma, urinary retention, prostatic disorders, constipation and bowel obstruction. There were no reports of allergic-type reactions in the controlled clinical trials. Allergic-type reactions such as skin rash, angioedema of the tongue, lips and face, urticaria, laryngospasm and anaphylactic reactions have been reported with other ipratropium bromide products.

No controlled trial was conducted to address the relative incidence of adverse events for BID versus TID therapy.

HOW SUPPLIED ATROVENT® (ipratropium bromide) Nasal Spray 0.06% is supplied as 15 mL of solution in a high density polyethylene (HDPE) bottle fitted with a metered nasal spray pump, a safety clip to prevent accidental discharge of the spray, and a clear plastic dust cap. The 15 mL bottle of ATROVENT Nasal Spray is designed to deliver 165 sprays of 0.07 mL each (142 mg ipratropium bromide).

Store tightly closed between 59°F (15°C) and 86°F (30°C). Avoid freezing. Keep out of reach of children. Avoid spraying in or around the eyes.

CULVER PICTURES/THE HISTORY CHANNEL

FOOD NETWORK

TV's tastiest channel has several new dishes on its menu, including Home Entertaining with Dean Fearing (Mondays at 10:30 P.M., debuted September 1), hosted by the executive chef at Mansion on Turtle Creek in Dallas, one of Texas's toniest eateries; Quench (Fridays at 11:30 P.M., debuted September 5), featuring spirited discussion of the latest trends in potent potables; and Three Dog Bakery (Fridays at 11 P.M., debuted September 5), the cooking show that teaches you how to prepare tempting treats for your dog—really! (But who's the host? Graham Cur?)

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

This sister channel to A&E has many minis, including Rockets! (blasts off September 15-18, 9 P.M.), a four-part miniseries following the trail of rockets from ancient China to the Space Age (see above), and Empires of Industry (October 12-16, 9 P.M.), a five-part history of American industrial development. But they also have a brand-new weeknight signature series focusing on puzzling secrets of the past: We'd be tempted to call it "Unsolved Histories," but it's actually titled In Search of History (Monday-Friday at 8 P.M., starting September 15). Then it's all aboard for Trains Unlimited (Mondays at 10 P.M., starting September 15), which tracks (so to speak) the rise of the American railroad. Like many cable series, these shows have additional playdates—or didn't you know History repeats itself?

HOME & GARDEN TELEVISION

Fittingly, it is the home-improvement channel that has made the most extensive renovations to its lineup. The "home" side of Home & Garden has added 21st Century Home (Thursdays at 8 P.M., starting October 9), a look at high tech in the house produced in tandem with computer-information company Ziff-Davis; Before & After (Sundays at 8 P.M., starting October 5), which takes you through major remodeling projects from start to finish; Country at Home (Wednesdays at 8 P.M., starting October 8), focusing on country decor; and Decorating Cents (Tuesdays at 9:30 P.M., starting October 7), showing room makeovers for under $500. New blooms on the "garden" side of HGTV include Great Gardeners (Sundays at 6:30 P.M., starting October 12), in-depth profiles of leading horticulturists; Grow It! A Gardener's Guide (Mondays at 10 P.M., starting October 6), a magazine show for those of us who merely aspire to be great gardeners; and Surprise Gardener (Tuesdays at 8:30 P.M., starting October 7), in which host Shelley Taylor Morgan and her crew of landscape professionals descend upon unsuspecting homeowners to give their yards miracle makeovers (surprise!).

THE LEARNING CHANNEL

TLC's new series looks like a disaster. Well, actually, it looks at disasters: Without Warning (Thursdays at 8:30 P.M., starting October 2) is not only about what happens when things go wrong—crashing planes, collapsing bridges, devastating fires (see below)—but also why they go wrong, and what can be done to stop them. Also new: Legends (Saturdays at 10 P.M., starting October 4), a series of profiles of celebrities and historical figures.

TAKING UP THE SLACK

A SLACKER-COMEDY GENEALOGY

Here is irrefutable evidence that MTV's new series Austin Stories (see below) is the logical outcome of certain powerful sociocultural trends rooted in the 1980s.

Viewed from this perspective, a situation comedy about slackers, on MTV, set in Austin, Texas, was historically inevitable.

Spiritual antecedents: the brat-pack slackers

THE BREAKFAST CLUB ('85)

ST. ELMO'S FIRE ('85)

Cinematic cousins: the Kevin Smith slacker comedies

MSNBC

The big news at the Microsoft-NBC alliance concerns The Big Show with Keith Olbermann (Monday-Friday at 8 P.M., starting October 1). The free-format interview show will feature former ESPN SportsCenter host Olbermann talking live with newsmakers and personalities (move over, Larry King).

HOMES ON THE STRANGE

And you thought The Jetsons' living space was a bit much. That was nothing: As its title implies, HGTV's Extreme Homes (premieres October 5 at 8:30 P.M.) showcases unusual living quarters. How unusual? We asked its producer, Scott Craig, for some answers:

TV GUIDE: How do you define an extreme home?

Scott Craig: One of a kind. Unique. They stop traffic. There's got to be an "Oh, my God!" factor to every one of them.

TVG: Can you give some examples?

SC: We've got people living in a railroad caboose, a bowling alley, a gas station. We have an auto-junkyard house: The window in the breakfast nook is from a salvaged Ford Fairlane. You just crank it down.

TVG: And are the people who live there as odd as their homes?

SC: Some are, some aren't. They're goofy, but good goofy—people who have real imagination and an appreciation for the unusual.

TVG: But don't these homes sacrifice comfort for style?

SC: I don't think anybody's making any sacrifices. We did an underground home, and instead of being confining, it's beautiful, with tons of light. It's just that every once in a while, they gotta go up on the roof and mow the lawn.

debuted September 10) the channel's "first fully scripted comedy series," and that sounds a lot like a sitcom to us. The show stars three Austin stand-up comedians—Laura House, Brad "Chip" Pope, and Howard Kremer—as twentysomething friends in the Texas capital (you can see them in the chart on the preceding page). Also on Music Television, somewhat surprisingly, is a music series: Live from the 10 Spot (check TV GUIDE listings), featuring weekly live performances by artists such as Counting Crows.

ROMANCE CLASSICS

A spinoff of American Movie Classics, RC mainly shows movies and minis with lots of hugging and kissing—but it also has Romantically Speaking: Harlequin

Goes Prime Time (Fridays at 8 P.M., debuted August 29), on which comedian Elayne Boosler talks to Harlequin romance authors about a different topic each week: older woman/younger man relationships, for example. Coming up: Real Romances, a look at real-life love stories across the country. Actual documentary footage of hugging and kissing may be shown.

VH1

Behind the Music (Sundays at 9 P.M., debuted August 24) asks the musical questions: How did the rap artist Hammer lose all that money? How come Milli Vanilli never performed live? What ever happened to Boy George? In other words, it's a series that focuses on the personal side of music artists' lives.

SYNDICATED SERIES

As usual, syndication is where the action is—and any semblance of logic is not. This season, it's the realm of saxophone-playing superheroes and sneaky space aliens, monosyllabic barbarians and verbose automobiles. Fortunately, there's a gritty urban cop show to provide a dose of reality—Police Academy: The Series.

Conan the Television Series (debuts week of September 22) Having pulverized in pulp magazines, conquered in comic books, and massacred in the movies, Robert E. Howard's sword-and-sorcery superhero finally gets his own hour-long TV show. They couldn't afford Schwarzenegger, so another ex-Mr. Universe, Ralf Moeller, muscles his way into the role. Filmed on location in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

Due South (debuts week of September 15) The Mounties, it is said, always get their man—and with similar determination, this quirky comedy-drama about a straitlaced Canadian cop simply refuses to die. Twice canceled by CBS, it now returns in syndication with Paul Gross back in the saddle as mounted naif Benton Fraser (and as writer/producer). Callum Keith Rennie plays his new partner in crime-fighting.

Gene Roddenberry's Earth: Final Conflict (debuts week of October 6) A "lost manuscript," discovered in late Star

BIG BUZZ PROJECT

BROLIN WINGS IT

James Brolin has his head in the clouds, and that's just the way he likes it. In Pensacola: Wings of Gold (debuted week of September 8), the actor plays a hardheaded Marine colonel training a squad of hotshot fighter pilots. "As a kid, this is what I wanted to do for the Navy," says Brolin. Though his career led him to such earthbound series as Marcus Welby, M.D. and Hotel, the actor managed to take flight in his free time; he's been a licensed pilot since he was 18 years old. And Brolin, 57, is also taking off behind the scenes: In addition to being Pensacola's executive producer, he just finished directing his first feature film, "Brothers in Arms." Can we expect Brolin's copilot in romance, Barbra Streisand, to guest on Pensacola? Not likely, he says, but a collaboration elsewhere could be in the wings: "We sit and read projects aloud at least three nights a week."

THE '80S: A DECADE THAT WILL NOT DIE

Déjà vu, anyone? For reasons yet to be revealed, a couple of shows we loved to mock in the '80s have spawned spin-offs that will be, if anything, even easier targets in the '90s. Recast and rejiggered though they may be, these two new offspring haven't lost touch with the essential inner cheese of their parents:

Trek creator Gene Roddenberry's archives by his wife, Majel Barrett Roddenberry, is the inspiration for this series. The hour-long science fiction drama stars Kevin Kilner (Almost Perfect) as a 21st-century cop aiding Earth's resistance against alien visitors whose benevolent actions mask a darker agenda.

Mike Hammer: Private Eye (debuts week of September 22) CBS canceled him a decade ago, but Mickey Spillane's hard-boiled detective is just too tough to stay down. Stacy Keach is back to nail the bad guys as Hammer, this time with a new partner, played by Shane Conrad.

NightMan (debuts week of September 19) Actor/model/stuntman Matt McCollm stars as Johnny Dominoe, a jazz musician who moonlights (so to speak) as NightMan, a "stealth" superhero equipped with high-tech weapons and the ability to sense evil thoughts. The hour-long action fantasy is based on a Marvel Comics character.

Police Academy: The Series (debuts week of September 22) After bungling their way through seven feature films, those cop cadet cut-ups are back in an hour-long action-comedy. Michael Winslow (you know—the guy who does the sound effects) reprises his role from the movies; the cast also includes SCTV alumnus Joe Flaherty.

Soldier of Fortune, Inc. (debuts week of September 22) No, it's not about that magazine with the guns and knives on the cover—it's about the kind of guys who read that magazine. Brad Johnson leads a team of mercenaries in this hour-long series, the first action-TV foray by action-movie producer Jerry Bruckheimer ("Con Air").

MADE-FOR-TV MOVIES

Etra, extra, read all about it! You actually could this year, since many of the upcoming small-screen projects originally had a life in print. Source material includes front-page stories about everything from serial killers (Andrew Cunanan) to science experiments (Cloned), literary favorites old (Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre) and new (Ken Follett's The Third Twin), and the life stories of luminaries from Dennis Rodman to Mother Teresa. Also look for big-name players (Francis Ford Coppola, Oprah Winfrey) both behind and in front of the camera. And in a break from the past, women are no longer in jeopardy; in fact, they're often the ones pulling the strings.

BROADCAST

GENETIC ENGINEERING

Cloned (NBC, September 28) Elizabeth Perkins thinks someone is replicating her dead son. With Alan Rosenberg and Bradley Whitford.

Ken Follett's *The Third Twin (CBS, November 9 and 11) A four-hour miniseries starring Kelly McGillis as a scientist studying twins and Jason Gedrick in a multiple role as a slew of lookalike strangers. With Larry Hagman, Marion Ross, Hal Holbrook, Ralph Waite, and Regina Taylor.

Midnight Man (ABC) Timothy Hutton makes a startling discovery: The government has monkeyed around with his body, enhancing his strength and smarts but erasing his true identity.

MURDER & MAYHEM

Crimes of Passion: Hunt in Full Cry (ABC) A defense attorney (Rosanna Arquette) kills a man who rapes her. Then her boyfriend, a detective, is assigned to solve the murder.

Crowned and Dangerous (ABC, September 21) Dental patients seek revenge! Not really: This is a black comedy about a murdered beauty queen (Cassidy Rae); the suspects include Yasmine Bleeth,

BIG BUZZ PROJECTS

FROM MONSTERS TO MEDITATIONS

The year's most notable projects are all good yarns—but perhaps owing to their literary origins, each has a philosophical bent as well.

NBC's four-hour miniseries House of Frankenstein 1997 (November 2 and 3), for instance, is no mere gallery of ghouls, even if it does turn Frankenstein's monster, a lot of vampires, and a pack of werewolves loose in present-day Los Angeles (see photos). Says executive producer David Israel, "Without being highfalutin here, we're hoping to be in the vein of the classics: monster movies are a classic form of cinema, and Frankenstein and Dracula are two classics of literature." Greg Wise, Adrian Pasdar, and Teri Polo, who star as members of a doomed love triangle, may well learn what the gothic genre is all about: the horror of losing someone you love. We'll bite.

ABC's Into Thin Air: Death on Ever-

est (November), about the tragic 1996 climb that killed guide Scott Fischer and seven other people, is based on survivor Jon Krakauer's nonfiction best-seller. Peter Horton, who plays Fischer, says, "I hope viewers are able to get beyond the gossip surrounding this story and dwell on the [climbers'] inner world. Why do they do it? I hope I've answered that for Scott Fischer. It's about self-respect, testing yourself against a tangible measuring stick. And how often do you get a chance to do that in life?"

A similar obsession is at work in Moby Dick, USA's four-hour miniseries, which sets sail next spring. Patrick Stewart, who has perfected the role of good captain as Star Trek's Jean-Luc Picard, plays Ahab, the maniacal leader who will pursue a great white whale at any cost. "Ahab takes on nature, and God, trying to change his own destiny," says director Franc Roddam ("K-2"). "Patrick is that rare person who can bring the power and grandeur the role demands." (Also on board: Gregory Peck, who starred in John Huston's 1956 version of the Herman Melville novel.)

Last, but not least (it's also set for next spring) is CBS's The Celestine Prophecy, a four-hour miniseries based on James Redfield's 1994 best-seller. It's about a professor who travels to South America to find a stolen manuscript said to explain the meaning of life. "It'll be like Shogun," says Redfield, who's co-producing. "It's an adventure story, but an adventure of spirituality." There's no cast as yet, but color us curious. Monsters, mountains, madness, and the meaning of life—who could ask for more?

HOT OFF THE HEADLINES

By nature, quickie TV-movies appear as if out of nowhere; the next Amy Fisher and Joey Buttafuoco may be paving the way right now for our future viewing pleasure. The real-life dramas in the works so far are a somber lot: Less than a month after his July 23 suicide, ABC commissioned a script about serial killer Andrew Cunanan (top), whose last victim was fashion designer Gianni Versace. And a production company that works closely with the network has snapped up the rights to Our Guys: The Glen Ridge Rape and the Secret Life of the Perfect Suburb, a new book by Bernard Lefkowitz about the three New Jersey teens found guilty in 1993 of raping a mentally retarded girl. Meanwhile, CBS plans to dramatize the case of Alex Kelly (center), the Connecticut jock who fled the U.S. in 1987 to escape rape charges; now that Kelly has returned from Europe, stood trial, and been sentenced to 16 years in prison, the two-year-old project should finally materialize. CBS will also adapt Without a Doubt, Jill Clayburgh, George Eads, and Gates McFadden.

Five Desperate Hours (NBC, October 5)

A suburban housewife (Sharon Lawrence) must think fast after a desperate, suicidal man (Giancarlo Esposito) randomly picks her home as a hideout. With Rocky Carroll and Daniel Hugh Kelly.

Futuresport (ABC) Wesley Snipes is the world's best athlete in a time when a deadly team event can decide a nation's fate.

On the Line (ABC) A cop from the LAPD sex-crimes unit (Linda Hamilton) tries to crack a case in her new division: robbery/homicide. With Jeff Fahey and Coolio.

BIG-SCREEN PLAYERS TAKE THEIR GAMES TO TV

Some of the hottest stars in Hollywood—take Streisand, or De Niro—are attaching their names and reputations to TV-movies this season—and the transition from big screen to small may not be as big as you'd think...

ROBERT DE NIRO

THEN

After "whacking" an enemy in 1974's "The Godfather, Part II" (for which he won an Oscar for Best Supporting Actor), he continued his mob connection with 1990's "GoodFellas."

NOW

De Niro is co-executive producer of NBC's The Sammy Gravano Story (May), a miniseries about the mob hit man known as "The Bull," who admitted to whacking 19 people—and sent his own Godfather, John Gotti, up the river.

GOLDIE HAWN

THEN

She was wide-eyed and girlish in her Oscar-winning role in 1969's "Cactus Flower," but by 1984 she was fighting for equality in "Swing Shift" (with Christine Lahti). In 1991's "Deceived," she tried to get to the bottom of her husband's mysterious death.

NOW

Hawn makes her directorial debut with TNT's Hope (October 19), about a wide-eyed girl (Jena Malone) who fights for equality amid 1960s racial strife by trying to get to the bottom of an African-American boy's death. With Christine Lahti.

BARBRA STREISAND

THEN

In 1983's "Yentl," the first-time director/producer/cowriter played a woman pretending to be a boy so she could study Jewish scripture. Ten years earlier, she played a political activist in "The Way We Were."

NOW

Streisand is co-producing Showtime's Rescuers: Stories of Courage—Two Women (October 5), with Elizabeth Perkins as a woman helping a Jewish boy pretend to be gentile to escape the Nazis. Also starring Sela Ward. Next up for Streisand is NBC's The Carolyn McCarthy Story, about the woman whose crusade against handguns—after her husband was killed and her son wounded in the 1993 Long Island Rail Road massacre—led to her successful run for Congress.

DENNIS QUAID

THEN

In 1988's "Everybody's All-American," he and Jessica Lange played a fairy-tale couple who fell into financial ruin. While shooting one of the movie's football scenes, he was injured when he crashed into an opposing player.

NOW

Quaid makes his directorial debut and stars, with Mare Winningham, in TNT's Everything That Rises, about a fairy-tale couple who fall into financial ruin when their son is injured in a car crash. With Meat Loaf.

MICHELLE PFEIFFER

THEN

She practiced black magic in 1987's "The Witches of Eastwick," in which she, along with Cher and Susan Sarandon, was judged harshly by her puritanical neighbors.

NOW

Pfeiffer is co-producing a fact-based project for TNT about Sarah Ather-ton, a 17th-century Puritan woman tormented by her neighbors, who suspected her of being a witch.

FRANCIS FORD COPPOLA

THEN

He directed 1983's "The Outsiders," which costarred Rob Lowe as one of a gang of troubled "greasers" at war with some preppy schoolboys.

NOW

Coppola is co-executive producer of ABC's Outrage, in which young husband Rob Lowe wages war against a gang of prep-school boys after they break into his car.

Monday After the Miracle (CBS) This TV-movie picks up where "The Miraprojects about African-Americans don't always get."

In TNT's Glory and Honor, Delroy Lindo is Matthew Henson, who discovered the North Pole with Robert Peary in 1909. "This is a much-neglected man who deserved major attention," says Lindo of Henson, who later toiled as a New York City postal worker. "It was not politic to say a black man had gotten [to the Pole] first."

In February, Showtime presents Down in the Delta, about a matriarch (Mary Alice) who convinces her family to flee the Chicago projects for Mississippi in search of a better life; it also stars Alfre Woodard, Wesley Snipes, Al B. Freeman Jr., and Esther Rolle. "It's the kind of story that could take place in my family or yours," says director Maya Angelou of her first TV-movie. "It's about the issues faced by human beings—struggles to be independent, to have some dignity, even some luxury." Another strong woman is the cornerstone of CBS's Mama Flora's Family, a miniseries in development based on the writings of the late Alex Haley.

Finally, Showtime's Blind Faith stars Courtney B. Vance and Charles S. Dutton as brothers in the 1950s who become estranged when Dutton's gay son is wrongly accused of killing a white man. It, too, is slated for February—Black History Month.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

It's not as if we've never seen African-American history on TV before—think Roots. But compare the number of such projects in last year's Fall Preview (one) with this year's (six), and it seems a renaissance is under way. One catalyst is Oprah Winfrey Presents. Among the projects the talk-show host will bring to ABC is The Wedding, a four-hour miniseries based on Dorothy West's novel. Set in an enclave of light-skinned African-Americans on Martha's Vineyard, it's about a woman (Halle Berry) who's ready to marry a white musician (Eric Thal) until a dark-skinned black man (Carl Lumbly) determines to win her.

History buff Danny Glover (right, in center) co-produces and stars in TNT's Buffalo Soldiers (December 7), about an all-black Civil War cavalry unit; it costars Lumbly, Mykelti Williamson, and Michael Warren. "The beauty of this piece of history is that it helps give shape to the true face of America," says Lumbly. "Danny and Oprah can give the attention to detail that cle Worker" left off, with Annie Sullivan (Sissy Spacek) deciding to marry—jeopardizing her friendship with former pupil Helen Keller.

Two Came Back (ABC) Melissa Joan Hart gets a job transporting a state-of-the-art boat. (Note: The title does not bode well for the five-member crew.) With Jonathan Brandis.

THE BOOK NOOK

A Christmas Memory (CBS) Buddy (Eric Lloyd) and his simple, older cousin (Patty

INTRODUCING ZYBAN

THE FIRST NICOTINE-FREE PILL HELPS PUT YOU IN CONTROL OF QUITTING

ZYBAN is a totally new, nicotine-free way to help you quit smoking

It's medical, logical, and makes quitting bearable. That's because ZYBAN is a prescription medicine that, for many people, helps reduce withdrawal symptoms and the urge to smoke. ZYBAN helps get you ready to quit while you're still smoking. You set a quit day within 1 to 2 weeks after starting treatment with ZYBAN. It takes about a week for ZYBAN to reach the right levels in your body to be effective. Most people should take ZYBAN for 7 to 12 weeks.

Proven more effective than a nicotine patch

In a medical study using patient support materials and drug therapy, ZYBAN helped more smokers quit for 4 weeks than Habitrol® (nicotine transdermal system),* a nicotine patch. And unlike the patch and gum, ZYBAN replaces cigarettes with nicotine-free medicine.

What you need to know about ZYBAN

The most common side effects with ZYBAN include dry mouth and difficulty sleeping. There are other risks associated with the use of ZYBAN, so it is important to talk to your health care professional to see whether ZYBAN is right for you. There is a risk of seizure in certain patients (see "Important Warning" section in Information for the Patient on following page). You should not take ZYBAN if you have a seizure disorder; are already taking WELLBUTRIN®, WELLBUTRIN SR®, or any other medicines that contain bupropion HCl; have or have had an eating disorder; or are currently taking or have recently taken a monoamine oxidase (MAO) inhibitor. It is important to let your health care professional know about any other prescription or over-the-counter medications you are taking. ZYBAN is not recommended for women who are pregnant or breast-feeding.

ZYBAN and the ZYBAN Advantage Plan™, a free counseling and personalized support program, are part of an overall plan recommended by your health care professional to help you quit smoking.

Information for the Patient

ZYBAN™ (bupropion hydrochloride) Sustained-Release Tablets
Please read this information before you start taking ZYBAN. Also read this leaflet each time you renew your prescription, in case anything has changed. This information is not intended to take the place of discussions between you and your doctor. You and your doctor should discuss ZYBAN as part of your plan to stop smoking. Your doctor has prescribed ZYBAN for your use only. Do not let anyone else use your ZYBAN.

IMPORTANT WARNING:

There is a chance that approximately 1 out of every 1,000 people taking bupropion hydrochloride, the active ingredient in ZYBAN, will have a seizure. The chance of this happening increases if you:

- have a seizure disorder (for example, epilepsy);
- have or have had an eating disorder (for example, bulimia or anorexia nervosa);
- take more than the recommended amount of ZYBAN; or
- take other medicines with the same active ingredient that is in ZYBAN, such as WELLBUTRIN® (bupropion hydrochloride) Tablets and WELLBUTRIN SR® (bupropion hydrochloride) Sustained-Release Tablets. (Both of these medicines are used to treat depression.)

You can reduce the chance of experiencing a seizure by following your doctor's directions on how to take ZYBAN. You should also discuss with your doctor whether ZYBAN is right for you.

1. What is ZYBAN?

ZYBAN is a prescription medicine to help people quit smoking. Studies have shown that more than one third of people quit smoking for at least 1 month while taking ZYBAN and participating in a patient support program. For many patients, ZYBAN reduces withdrawal symptoms and the urge to smoke. ZYBAN should be used with a patient support program. It is important to participate in the behavioral program, counseling, or other support program your health care professional recommends.

2. Who should not take ZYBAN?

You should not take ZYBAN if you:

- have a seizure disorder (for example, epilepsy);
- are already taking WELLBUTRIN, WELLBUTRIN SR, or any other medicines that contain bupropion hydrochloride;
- have or have had an eating disorder (for example, bulimia or anorexia nervosa);
- are currently taking or have recently taken a monoamine oxidase inhibitor (MAOI);
- are allergic to bupropion.

3. Are there special concerns for women?

ZYBAN is not recommended for women who are pregnant or breast-feeding. Women should notify their doctor if they become pregnant or intend to become pregnant while taking ZYBAN.

4. How should I take ZYBAN?

- You should take ZYBAN as directed by your doctor. The usual recommended dosing is to take one 150-mg tablet in the morning for the first 3 days. On the fourth day, begin taking one 150-mg tablet in the morning and one 150-mg tablet in the early evening. Doses should be taken at least 8 hours apart.
- Never take an "extra" dose of ZYBAN. If you forget to take a dose, do not take an extra tablet to "catch up" for the dose you forgot. Wait and take your next tablet at the regular time. Do not take more tablets than your doctor prescribed. This is important so you do not increase your chance of having a seizure.
- It is important to swallow ZYBAN Tablets whole. Do not chew, divide, or crush tablets.

5. How long should I take ZYBAN?

Most people should take ZYBAN for 7 to 12 weeks. Follow your doctor's instructions.

6. When should I stop smoking?

It takes about 1 week for ZYBAN™ (bupropion hydrochloride) Sustained-Release Tablets to reach the right levels in your body to be effective. So, to maximize your chance of quitting, you should not stop smoking until you have been taking ZYBAN for 1 week. You should set a date to stop smoking during the second week you're taking ZYBAN.

7. Can I smoke while taking ZYBAN?

It is not physically dangerous to smoke and use ZYBAN at the same time. However, continuing to smoke after the date you set to stop smoking will seriously reduce your chance of breaking your smoking habit.

8. Can ZYBAN be used at the same time as nicotine patches?

Yes, ZYBAN and nicotine patches can be used at the same time. They should only be used together under the supervision of your doctor. Using ZYBAN and nicotine patches together may raise your blood pressure. Your doctor will probably want to check your blood pressure regularly to make sure that it stays within acceptable levels.

DO NOT SMOKE AT ANY TIME if you are using a nicotine patch or any other nicotine product along with ZYBAN. It is possible to get too much nicotine and have serious side effects.

9. What are possible side effects of ZYBAN?

Like all medicines, ZYBAN may cause side effects.

- The most common side effects include dry mouth and difficulty sleeping. These side effects are generally mild and often disappear after a few weeks. If you have difficulty sleeping, avoid taking your medicine too close to bedtime.
- The most common side effects that caused people to stop taking ZYBAN during clinical studies were shakiness and skin rash.
- Contact your doctor or health care professional if you have any of the following or other troublesome side effects:
- Use caution before driving a car or operating complex, hazardous machinery until you know if ZYBAN affects your ability to perform these tasks.

10. Can I drink alcohol while I am taking ZYBAN?

It is best to not drink alcohol at all or to drink very little while taking ZYBAN. If you drink a lot of alcohol and suddenly stop, you may increase your chance of having a seizure. Therefore, it is important to discuss your use of alcohol with your doctor before you begin taking ZYBAN.

11. Will ZYBAN affect other medicines I am taking?

ZYBAN may affect other medicines you're taking. It is important to take medicines that may increase the chance for you to have a seizure. Therefore, you should make sure that your doctor knows about all medicines—prescription or over-the-counter—you are taking or plan to take.

12. Do ZYBAN Tablets have a characteristic odor?

ZYBAN Tablets may have a characteristic odor. If present, this odor is normal.

13. How should I store ZYBAN?

- Store ZYBAN at room temperature, out of direct sunlight.
- Keep ZYBAN in a tightly closed container.
- Keep ZYBAN out of the reach of children.

This summary provides important information about ZYBAN. This summary cannot replace the more detailed information that you need from your doctor. If you have any questions or concerns about ZYBAN or smoking cessation, talk to your doctor or other health care professional.

What a bunch of drips.

Stays where you spray.

FEATURE FILMS

BY GENE SISKEL

Fall is the season when movies get serious. Oscar candidates with sober themes replace summer's no-brainer action pictures designed for a nation on vacation. Fall also is the season when television gets serious about movies, trotting out high-quality pictures for a stay-at-home audience ready to hunker down with a good flick. In selecting 10 movies worth your viewing, I haven't picked the season's 10 best, just 10 of the best, with varied subjects—from training geese to winning the lottery—on both network and cable TV. Films are listed in alphabetical order, but at the end of the article I'll name the one movie on television this fall I recommend most highly. Stop! Don't turn that page.

BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD DO AMERICA

Wouldn't you know it, after all that talk about serious movies, alphabetical order means beginning with this juvenile comedy. But I'm serious about endorsing this very funny animated picture about two rebels with two causes: heavy-metal music and scoring with chicks. The first time I heard about Beavis and Butt-head, the MTV cartoon series, was from David Letterman as he raved about the unwavering, singular vision of show creator Mike Judge and his two characters, boys known for their minimalist dialogue. "Heh-heh" and "This sucks" are as eloquent as they get. They've spent too much time with their headphones on, which may be the whole point of the show. The film's opening scene provides a classic example of just how out of it they are. Someone has stolen their TV set, but they are too stupid to figure out what happened. So it's up to the director of the film to give them clues by panning the camera over to the window of their house, which has been broken. But that's not enough; they still don't get it. The director pans over to footprints leading out the front door! It's a clever gag, more easily achieved in animation than live-action. The rest of the story is a wild cross-country plane and road trip with the boys looking for chicks and their TV, doing Vegas, and being chased by federal agents as well as the redneck who they don't realize has hired them to kill his ex-wife. Sure, this is a teenage movie where kids can laugh at characters dumber than they are. But it is a very funny one that, pardon me, definitely doesn't suck. (HBO, December)

BIG NIGHT

Awondrous, romantic comedy about two immigrant Italian brothers in 1950s New Jersey trying to make it in the cutthroat restaurant business. The older brother, Primo (Tony Shalhoub), is a master chef from the Old Country with an uncompromising attitude toward food preparation; for him, it's a calling, an art form that doesn't include tolerating ignorant patrons. To the younger brother, Secundo (cowriter and codirector Stanley Tucci), a restaurant is also a commercial enterprise, and that's a recipe for fraternal conflict with red sauce. As their cash register sits silent due to the popularity of the more commercial Italian restaurant down the street (operated by the great actor Ian Holm), the brothers, in a publicity gambit, prepare a "big night," a grand celebration to which they'll invite the musician Louis Prima, who's performing nearby. Beyond telling us this story, the filmmakers also show Primo preparing exquisite risotto and lasagna bolognese in sequences that will have you drooling. American films rarely take the time to show us precisely how their characters do their jobs. "Big Night" is a tasty exception. (Showtime, November) lusts for Violet and more. The storyline suggests violent sleaze, and "Bound" certainly is violent. But it is not sleazy; it is joyful, ribald entertainment. (Showtime, October)

BOUND

A beautifully scripted and enthusiastically acted film noir about $2 million in mob money and the thug and his girlfriend and her new girlfriend who fight over it and each other. This is a tough, R-rated picture for adults that is sexy and wildly funny, an impressive first-time directing job by brothers Larry and Andy Wachowski working from their own tricky screenplay. Gina Gershon (she was the veteran Vegas dancer in "Showgirls") plays Corky, an ex-con who's been hired to rehab an apartment next door to mobster Caesar (Joe Pantoliano) and his seemingly ditsy squeeze, Violet (Jennifer Tilly). Caesar is holding all this cash to deliver, and while he lusts for it, Corky

FLY AWAY HOME

The best "family film" in years, from Carroll Ballard, who also created the best family film in years with 1979's "The Black Stallion." A New Zealand girl (Oscar winner Anna Paquin from "The Piano") is sent to live with her father in Canada after her divorced mother dies in a car wreck. In one of the few positive characterizations of a father in recent movies, dad (Jeff Daniels) is a sculptor-inventor-naturalist who's transformed by his new responsibility into becoming a creative parent, joining with his daughter and his girlfriend (Dana Delany) to raise some orphaned goslings on his farm. They even teach the geese how to fly and, in the film's climax, how to migrate south. I've shown this film to fifth-graders, and it triggered an enthusiastic discussion of fear and responsibility and growing up. Screen this with your own children. (HBO, September 14)

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU

Are you fascinated by stories about lottery winners? Here's a beauty—a sweet, romantic, comic fairy tale. Oscar winner Nicolas Cage and Rosie Perez, the urban, '90s version of "The Oomph Girl," play a married couple who hold a winning $4 million ticket. There's just one problem. Before the lottery numbers were drawn, Cage, a scrupulously honest cop, promised a cute coffee-shop waitress (Bridget Fonda) that he would split any winnings on the ticket 50-50 with her because he didn't have any money to tip her that day. What does Perez, the Mouth of Brooklyn, say to Cage when she hears that he intends to honor his promise? "Do you love me? Then stiff her!" Two women. One ticket. One man. Director Andrew Bergman ("The Freshman," "Honeymoon in Vegas") makes the most out of a simple premise thanks, in part, to impeccable casting. The original title of this movie was "Cop Gives Waitress $2 Million Tip"; some idiot changed it, making something exceptional sound ordinary. (CBS)

JERRY MAGUIRE

This title you know. What can I say about it that's fresh? That I think it's terribly unfair that Renée Zellweger didn't receive a Best Actress nomination for her performance as a young, widowed mom who supports and loves a troubled sports agent (Tom Cruise) who has just been fired from his agency. Zellweger lights up the screen in her every close-up, silently expressing her character's romantic longing and vulnerability. She has fallen in love with a man who doesn't understand an essential truth: Work is easy; life is hard. I've always thought that writer-director Cameron Crowe's screenplay was about how winning isn't everything, but loving comes close. Zellweger's character knows how to love, and so does Cruise's one remaining client, a happily married football player (Cuba Gooding Jr., who won an Oscar for his performance). They are the real champions of this sports movie. (Showtime, January)

NOBODY'S FOOL

Paul Newman is at the top of his game, etching with elegant simplicity the character of a troubled 60-year-old who has never grown up. He drinks, flirts, does odd construction jobs, and rents a room in the house of his eighth-grade teacher (Jessica Tandy, in one of her last performances) because she is "the only one who will have me." You would never know he has a son and a grandson. When they show up one day in his working-class, upstate New York town, Newman gets another chance to become a responsible human being. Although there are many moments in the movie that ring false—characters and situations that are too easily set up and resolved in the same scene—Newman is a true master at playing irresponsible men. He's done it all his professional life, from "Fast" Eddie Felson in "The Hustler" to his Oscar-nominated drunken lawyer in "The Verdict." This is another case of Newman playing a good man inside of a bad boy. (NBC)

PRIVATE PARTS

Yes, I'm recommending the Howard Stern movie. This and "Beavis and Butt-head"? I know what you're thinking: Does the life of a movie critic attract or create juveniles? But Stern's movie, the autobiography of the triumph of a nerd, surprisingly turns out to be a valentine to his wife, Alison, who turns out to be the wind beneath his wings, hair, and other body parts. Rarely has a successful professional man so clearly declared his debt to his spouse. Along the way in this R-rated walk on the wild side of broadcasting, Stern vents his spleen at old enemies—rival broadcasters as well as employers who knew what they were hiring but then refused to let him do his act. (HBO, winter)

SECRETS & LIES

A triumph by an English filmmaker who isn't a household name yet but deserves to be. Mike Leigh creates his movies in an original manner, letting his actors improvise their dialogue in workshops and role-playing sessions before his camera ever rolls. "High Hopes," "Life Is Sweet," and "Naked" are some of his best films and are certainly worth renting. Nominated for five Oscars this past year, "Secrets & Lies" is about a depressed working-class mother encountering the daughter she gave up for adoption at birth. She never saw the infant and is stunned to meet her as a successful, twentysomething optometrist (Marianne Jean-Baptiste). One more detail: The mother (Brenda Blethyn) is white; her daughter, from a black father, is not. It's one thing to deal with this situation by oneself. It's quite another to have to explain it to one's other adult daughter. A concluding luncheon party in which the secret is eventually revealed is a masterpiece of ensemble acting in front of a camera that doesn't blink. The import of it all: Confront difficult truths head on, right away. (Cinemax, winter)

Patient Choice

If you ignore it, maybe it will go away.

Today, most of us can choose the physicians who will provide our medical care, including, importantly, the surgeon who will perform any operation we may need. It's one way we can ensure that we'll have the best possible result from any medical procedure. But Americans may not have this choice much longer. Change is coming to our nation's health care system, and changes now under consideration could limit your right to consult with the qualified specialist of your choice.

At the American College of Surgeons, we support initiatives to improve health care. We believe maintaining patient choice is crucial to maintaining high standards of care. That's why we think you should be fully informed about all the implications these proposed changes could have on the care provided to you and your family.

While you may not have thought about patient choice before today, we know that the next time you or someone in your family needs an operation, you'll want to be able to choose a surgeon who has the best skills and experience to perform the procedure. Don't let your freedom to choose get away from you. Get the facts. Be informed.

I'm concerned about retaining the right of patient choice and want to learn more about this issue. Please send me a free copy of your brochure on patient choice and important information on surgical care.

WHEN WE WERE KINGS

Here is a film that fortunately went unmade for 22 years. Shot in 1974 but unedited and undistributed for lack of funding, this striking documentary of the classic Muhammad Ali-George Foreman championship fight in Zaire (now the Democratic Republic of Congo) won the Academy Award for best documentary feature of 1996. In a giant upset, Ali won the "Rumble in the Jungle" against the much younger, unbeaten Foreman, as the crowd in Zaire chanted, "Ali, bomaye [Ali, kill him!]" But this is so much more than a fight film. It's an unintended time-capsule view of Ali, then the most famous man on the planet, preaching brotherhood between black Americans and their African brothers and sisters. He's knocked out, for example, when he sees African pilots on his plane, noting that the American media never showed black men with such skills. If this film had been released in the '70s, it would have long disappeared from our consciousness. It lives now. (Showtime, February)

And finally, as promised, here is the one film I recommend most highly on this list—Mike Leigh's "Secrets & Lies."

I think it could actually change lives if people acted on its message: Nip problems in the bud.

Ahhh! Allegra!

allegra®
fexofenadine HCl 60 mg

Advertisement

Brief Summary of Prescribing Information as of October 1996

ALLEGRA™
(fexofenadine hydrochloride)
Capsules
60 mg

INDICATIONS AND USAGE

ALLEGRA™ is indicated for the relief of symptoms associated with seasonal allergic rhinitis in adults and children 12 years of age and older. Symptoms treated effectively include sneezing, rhinorrhea, itchy nose/palate/throat, itchy/watery/red eyes.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

ALLEGRA™ is contraindicated in patients with known hypersensitivity to any of its ingredients.

PRECAUTIONS

Drug Interactions

In two separate studies, fexofenadine hydrochloride 120 mg twice daily (twice the recommended dose) was co-administered with erythromycin 500 mg every 8 hours or ketoconazole 400 mg once daily under steady-state conditions to normal, healthy volunteers (n=24, each study). No differences in adverse events or QTc interval were observed when subjects were administered fexofenadine hydrochloride alone or in combination with erythromycin or ketoconazole. The findings of these studies are summarized in the following table:

Effects on Steady-State Fexofenadine Pharmacokinetics
After 7 Days of Co-Administration with Fexofenadine Hydrochloride 120 mg Every 12 Hours (twice recommended dose) in Normal Volunteers (n=24)

Concomitant Drug	C <sub>max,SS</sub> (Peak plasma concentration)	AUC <sub>0-12h</sub> (Extent of systemic exposure)
Erythromycin (500 mg every 8 hrs)	+82%	+109%
Ketoconazole (400 mg once daily)	+135%	+164%

The mechanisms of these interactions are unknown, and the potential for interaction with other azole antifungal or macrolide agents has not been studied. These changes in plasma levels were within the range of plasma levels achieved in adequate and well-controlled clinical trials. Fexofenadine had no effect on the pharmacokinetics of erythromycin or ketoconazole.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility

The carcinogenic potential and reproductive toxicity of fexofenadine hydrochloride were assessed using terfenadine studies with adequate fexofenadine exposure (based on plasma area-under-the-curve [AUC] values). No evidence of carcinogenicity was observed when mice and rats were given daily oral doses of 50 and 150 mg/kg of terfenadine for 18 and 24 months, respectively; these doses resulted in plasma AUC values of fexofenadine that were up to four times the human therapeutic value (based on a 60-mg twice-daily fexofenadine hydrochloride dose). In in-vitro (Bacterial Reverse Mutation, CHO/HGPRT Forward Mutation, and Rat Lymphocyte Chromosomal Aberration assays) and in-vivo (Mouse Bone Marrow Micronucleus assay) tests, fexofenadine hydrochloride revealed no evidence of mutagenicity. In rat fertility studies, dose-related reductions in implants and increases in postimplantation losses were observed at oral doses equal to or greater than 150 mg/kg of terfenadine; these doses produced plasma AUC values of fexofenadine that were equal to or greater than three times the human therapeutic value (based on a 60-mg twice-daily fexofenadine hydrochloride dose).

Pregnancy

Teratogenic Effects: Category C. There was no evidence of teratogenicity in rats or rabbits at oral terfenadine doses up to 300 mg/kg; these doses produced fexofenadine plasma AUC values that were up to 4 and 37 times the human therapeutic value (based on a 60-mg twice-daily fexofenadine hydrochloride dose), respectively.

There are no adequate and well-controlled studies in pregnant women. Fexofenadine hydrochloride should be used during pregnancy only if the potential benefit justifies the potential risk to the fetus.

Nonteratogenic Effects. Dose-related decreases in pup weight gain and survival were observed in rats exposed to oral doses equal to and greater than 150 mg/kg of terfenadine; at these doses the plasma AUC values of fexofenadine were equal to or greater than 3 times the human therapeutic values (based on a 60-mg twice-daily fexofenadine hydrochloride dose).

Nursing Mothers

There are no adequate and well-controlled studies in women during lactation. Because many drugs are excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when fexofenadine hydrochloride is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use

Safety and effectiveness of ALLEGRA™ in pediatric patients under the age of 12 years have not been established. Across multiple controlled clinical trials in patients with seasonal allergic rhinitis, total of 205 patients between the ages of 12 to 16 years received doses ranging from 20 mg to 240 mg twice daily for up to 12 weeks. Adverse events were similar in this group compared to patients above the age of 16 years.

Geriatric Use

In placebo-controlled trials, 42 patients, age 60 to 68 years, received doses of 20 mg to 240 mg of fexofenadine twice daily for up to two weeks. Adverse events were similar in this group to patients under age 60 years.

ADVERSE REACTIONS

In placebo-controlled clinical trials, which included 2461 patients receiving fexofenadine hydrochloride at doses of 20 mg to 240 mg twice daily, adverse events were similar in fexofenadine hydrochloride and placebo-treated patients. The incidence of adverse events, including drowsiness, was dose related and was similar across subgroups defined by age, gender, and race. The percent of patients who withdrew prematurely because of adverse events was 2.2% with fexofenadine hydrochloride vs 3.3% with placebo. All adverse events were reported by greater than 1% of patients who received the recommended daily dose of fexofenadine hydrochloride (60 mg twice-daily), and that were more common with fexofenadine than placebo, are listed in the following table.

Adverse Experiences Reported in Placebo-Controlled Seasonal Allergic Rhinitis Clinical Trials at Rates of Greater Than 1%

Adverse Experience	Fexofenadine 60 mg Twice Daily (n=679)	Placebo Twice Daily (n=671)
Viral Infection (cold, flu)	2.5%	1.5%
Nausea	1.6%	1.5%
Dysmenorrhea	1.5%	0.3%
Drowsiness	1.3%	0.9%
Dyspepsia	1.3%	0.6%
Fatigue	1.3%	0.9%

Adverse events occurring in greater than 1% of fexofenadine hydrochloride-treated patients (60 mg twice daily), but that were more common in the placebo-treated group, include headache and throat irritation.

A SHORT COURSE IN PALIN-TOLOGY

Michael Palin has covered a lot of ground for his TV travelogues, Around the World in 80 Days, Pole to Pole, and now the 10-part Full Circle with Michael Palin (PBS, September 15-November 24). "Every time I take a journey," says the Monty Python vet, who lives in London, "I realize how small my own little part of the world is." Here, the intrepid adventurer offers some travel tips:

1. Never sleep with your mouth open.
2. Always let your neighbors know exactly where you are. "The Gobi Desert" is not enough.
3. Never assume a tiger is yawning.
4. Always get the menu translated. Everything that looks good is raw testicles.
5. Travel light. You never know who may have to carry you.
6. Beware of the Amazon jungle. There are no video rental stores.
7. Mosquitoes are smarter than you think.
8. Never leave your dog outside a Chinese restaurant.
9. Carry a good map. But toilet paper is even better.
10. And my best tip: Don't talk—listen.

MARK HAMILL'S DARK SIDE

Just how much does Mark Hamill love monsters? Well, the former "Star Wars" Jedi is not only a fan, he's the host of The Learning Channel's Unnatural History: Mythical Beasts and Monsters (October 27) and A&E's Hollywood, Aliens and Monsters: A Century of Science Fiction Cinema (November 9). TV GUIDE talked with him about his passion.

TV GUIDE: Which monsters would you like to see in a pay-per-view event? Who would win?

Mark Hamill: Alien vs. Predator wouldn't be bad. The Predator is more intellectual and you'd like to think that intellect would win over savagery, but you don't know.

TVG: How about King Kong vs. Bigfoot?

MH: Well, for sheer size alone, I think King Kong would just squash Bigfoot like a cigar.

TVG: Do you believe in a Loch Ness monster?

MH: Let's say I'm open to it. But I don't want them to drain the lake and possibly kill it.

TVG: What about aliens?

MH: I've never seen a UFO or had any X-Files-like encounters, but I kind of want to.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Once the pennant races have sorted themselves out, we can get down to the business of deciding which team will succeed the 1996 New York Yankees as world champions. (Of course, the '97 Yanks are one possibility.) The playoffs begin September 30 with Fox, NBC, and ESPN divvying up the coverage. After the quick best-of-five American and National League division series, the best-of-seven league championship series both begin October 7. This year, Fox gets the AL and NBC gets the NL. Mark October 18 on the calendar for Game One of the World Series. NBC will have Bob Costas, Joe Morgan, and Bob Uecker in the booth.

NFL FOOTBALL

What is the NFL coming to? Expansion powerhouses... crumbling dynasties. Yep, thanks to free agency, salary caps, and the newest wrinkle—coaching roulette—the tired old NFL adage of “any given Sunday” rings true like never before. Fortunately for viewers, the TV schedule remains stable with Sunday afternoon action on Fox (NFC) and NBC (AFC). The national Sunday-night schedule switches from TNT to ESPN after the October 26 Falcons–Panthers matchup, and ABC remains the season-long home of Monday Night Football. The playoffs begin just after Christmas with a Saturday (December 27) wild-card doubleheader on ABC. The preliminary round concludes the next day on Fox and NBC. These two networks will carry the divisional playoffs the following weekend (January 3–4), and the conference championships the Sunday after that (January 11). Then comes the long buildup to the

YANKEE CLIPPING

Joe DiMaggio has always been an ambivalent idol: indulgent of fans (above) but curiously reserved. A new HBO documentary, Where Have You Gone, Joe DiMaggio? (October 20, 8 P.M.), tries to unwrap the riddle of the Sphinxlike slugger. “He’ll talk to anyone—about base-big game. Super Bowl XXXII (January 25) and all its attendant pomp will be broadcast by NBC from San Diego’s Qualcomm Stadium.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

For many sports fans, one of life’s toughest calls is choosing which college game to watch on Saturdays. Consider the options. On CBS: Big East and Southeastern Conference home games. On ABC: pairings from the Atlantic Coast, Big Ten, Big 12, PAC 10, and Western Athletic conferences. On NBC: Notre Dame games—from the Irish’s new home stadium—plus the Bayou Classic (Grambling State versus Southern) on November 29. College football really goes deep on cable, where ESPN (with 50 games on the schedule), ESPN2 (39 games), Fox Sports Net (more than 30 games), FX (four games in October), and regional networks ensure that the action never stops.

When bowl season rolls around, CBS will have the top-ranked teams in the Orange Bowl, airing in prime time on January 2. The network will also broadcast the Sun and Fiesta Bowls (both on December 31) as well as the Cotton Bowl (January 1). ABC’s bowl lineup starts with the December 25 Blue-Grey All Star Classic and the Aloha Bowl and concludes with the Florida Citrus, Rose, and Sugar Bowls on January 1. NBC’s lone foray into postseason college pageantry remains the Gator Bowl on New Year’s Day. ESPN, on the other hand, has cornered the market on the less-prestigious second-tier bowls—slating nine of them for the week of December 26 to January 2, beginning with the inaugural Ford Motor City Bowl.

NBA BASKETBALL

You-know-who has “next,” and plenty of it. One in every four regular-season games that Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls play will get national coverage either on TNT (Tuesday and Friday nights), TBS (Wednesday nights), or NBC (weekends). It could be Jordan’s last run at the title—at least alongside Scottie Pippen and coach Phil Jackson—and His Airness seems more intent than ever on repeating.

TNT’s coverage tips off on a spooky note with a Halloween doubleheader. (Does this mean studio host Ernie Johnson will dress as Count Dunkula? We can only hope.) TBS’s coverage begins November 5. NBC joins in on Christmas Day with its traditional doubleheader and starts its weekly coverage January 18 with the Pacers versus the Celtics, which marks Larry Bird’s first visit to Boston as an opposing coach. New York’s Madison ball,” says Ross Greenburg, executive producer of HBO Sports, “but that’s it.” Interviews, anecdotes, and vintage film clips recreate the Yankee Clipper’s epic 56-game hitting streak in 1941 (right) and his marriage to Marilyn Monroe. Joltin’ Joe emerges as someone who likes to have it both ways: Garbo-like solitude as a man, Ali-like adulation as a baseball legend. “On Oldtimers Day,” says Greenburg, “he insists on being introduced last, and as ‘The greatest living baseball player.’” That’s a tough act to follow.

Square Garden will be the site of All-Star Weekend, with the rookie game set for TNT February 7 and the 48th NBA All-Star Game on NBC February 8.

NCAA BASKETBALL

From Midnight Madness—ESPN's ritualized season-opening special (October 18 at midnight)—to the winner-take-all NCAA tournament that CBS has dubbed March Madness, there's no shortage of men's college basketball on TV. Expect the customary barrage of regular-season games on CBS (beginning December 6), ABC (December 7), ESPN and ESPN2 (more than 295 games between them), Fox Sports Net, FX, and regional networks. NCAA women's basketball action will dot the fall and winter TV landscape as well, with ESPN, ESPN2, and Fox Sports Net all offering weekly matches.

Televised tournaments offer early looks at the men's top squads, including the Classic from Minneapolis (November 14, ESPN); the Great 8 from Chicago (December 2-3, ESPN); and the Jimmy V Classic from New Jersey (December 19, ESPN). On the women's side, fans can look forward to a pair of games from the November 23 Tip-Off Classic—one on ESPN, the other on ESPN2—and the inaugural Elite 4 Holiday Classic from Lakeland, Florida, on December 21, also on the two sports channels.

HUDDLE UP PHIL MUSHNICK PREDICTS THE FOOTBALL SEASON'S TOP TEN STORIES

10. Joe Theismann's ESPN contract is posted on the Internet, confirming the suspicion that he is paid by the word.

9. A broadcast blimp hovers over an empty Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego when it was supposed to be covering a game at 3Com Park in San Francisco.

8. A Fox studio cameraman is hospitalized overnight for observation after Terry Bradshaw was thrown from a balky mule.

7. A high school senior will declare himself eligible for the NFL draft. After every team decries this precedent, the kid is drafted in the second round.

6. The NCAA will mandate that all Division I football teams travel with a bail bondsman.

5. ABC will add a Disney character to the Monday Night Football booth (right).

4. Fox will announce that its NFL pregame show will be extended to 90 minutes. In response, NBC expands to 100 minutes. ESPN announces that its pregame show will begin Tuesday mornings.

3. A survey reports that even after constant exposure, 96 percent of football fans still cannot give the title of any network's football pregame show.

2. The NFL announces a bold new venture into corporate synergy: Next year's Super Bowl will feature a matchup between the champions of the Nike and Miller Lite Conferences.

1. The Dallas Cowboys will finish 10-5-1: 10 acquittals, five convictions, and one mistrial.

THE BEST WAY TO STOP SUFFERING IS NEVER TO START.

Would you sacrifice 1 minute a day in order to spend the entire allergy season without the sneezing, congestion and runny nose that have always wrecked your summers?

Then consider a new kind of allergy treatment, Nasalcrom.*

Nasalcrom prevents allergy symptoms.

Allergies erupt because the natural immune system in your nose goes haywire.

Nasalcrom is the only medication that prevents this over-reaction. So you react like a person without allergies.

The best plan is to start a week before allergy season hits. One gentle spray in each nostril when you get up, one around noon, one before bed is all it takes—60 seconds tops.

No drowsiness, no other nasty side effects

Nasalcrom works at the site of your problem, in your nose. So it causes no drowsiness or jitters. There's no dependency and no interaction with other drugs. And you can use it throughout the entire allergy season.

Prescription no longer needed

Because it is so safe and effective, Nasalcrom has now been made available without a prescription. It's not like nasal sprays you could buy before. It's not like anything you could buy before. It's prevention, pure and simple.

For prevention of allergy symptoms.

For more information about Nasalcrom and the coming allergy season, call 1-888-345-STOP. (1-888-345-7867)

GOLF

Just when it appeared that Tiger Woods (left) would be it in the world of golf, other promising young players, such as Justin Leonard, came along to make things interesting. Look for both to compete in the Tour Championship on ESPN (October 30-31) and ABC (November 1-2). But first, they're off to Valderrama, Spain, along with team captain Tom Kite and other elite PGA tour pros, to compete in the U.S. versus Europe Ryder Cup. First-round competition in the match-play event airs on USA Network September 26, with NBC carrying the second and final rounds on September 27 and 28.

NHL HOCKEY

Detroit has finally broken its Stanley Cup drought; Mark Messier has left Wayne Gretzky behind for Canada's left coast; and Joe Sakic has become the richest Rocky Mountain skater ever. Will this affect the 1997-98 NHL season? Perhaps. But maybe not as much as the Stanley Cup shellacking Eric Lindros and his youthful cohorts from Philadelphia suffered at the gloves of the Steve Yzerman-led Red Wings. The Flyers will be back, a little more seasoned and a lot more determined.

ESPN's 26-game weekly coverage begins October 1, while the 77-game ESPN2 season breaks ice on October 3. Fox—which will expand its hockey package to 11 consecutive games-of-the-week on Saturday afternoons—begins its coverage with the NHL All-Star Game (Sunday, January 18) from Vancouver.

NASCAR

With 24 races down and eight checkered flags to go, it's still a close battle for the Winston Cup. Mark Martin, Jeff Gordon, Dale Jarrett, and Terry Labonte figure to take this right down to the season-closing Napa 500 (November 16) on ESPN. Between now and then: TNN has the New Hampshire 300 (September 14), the MBNA 400 (September 21), the AC-Delco 400 (October 26), and Dura Lube 500 (November 2); TBS will carry the UAW-GM Quality 500 (October 5); ESPN has the Hanes 500 (September 28); and CBS will offer the Sears DieHard 500 (October 12).

SOCCER

The Major League Soccer season playoffs begin on ESPN and ESPN2 (October 5). ABC will carry the MLS championship game from RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., on October 26. World Cup '98 action is already gaining momentum. ESPN will offer the U.S.A.-Jamaica qualifying match on October 3; the U.S.A.-Canada match-up is slated for ESPN2 on November 9.

WINTER GAMES

Grease up the bobsled; it's time for the Winter Olympics (February 6-22). The Games, from Nagano, Japan, will be carried by CBS. The network will whet viewers' appetites for its 128 hours of Olympic action with four Countdown to Nagano specials (November 27 and December 14, 21, and 28). TNT will beam 50 additional hours from Japan in February.

BARNES AND KENNELS

Thoroughbred racing fans can experience the thunder of not-so-tiny hooves in pursuit of oh-so-huge piles of cash when NBC broadcasts the Breeders' Cup from Hollywood Park in California on November 8. The purses total $11 million, including a $4 million feed bag for winning the seventh featured race, the Breeders' Cup Classic.

Finally, mark February 16 and 17 on the calendar for the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show on USA Network. Let's face it: No true sports fans can make it through the year without at least once putting on the dogs.

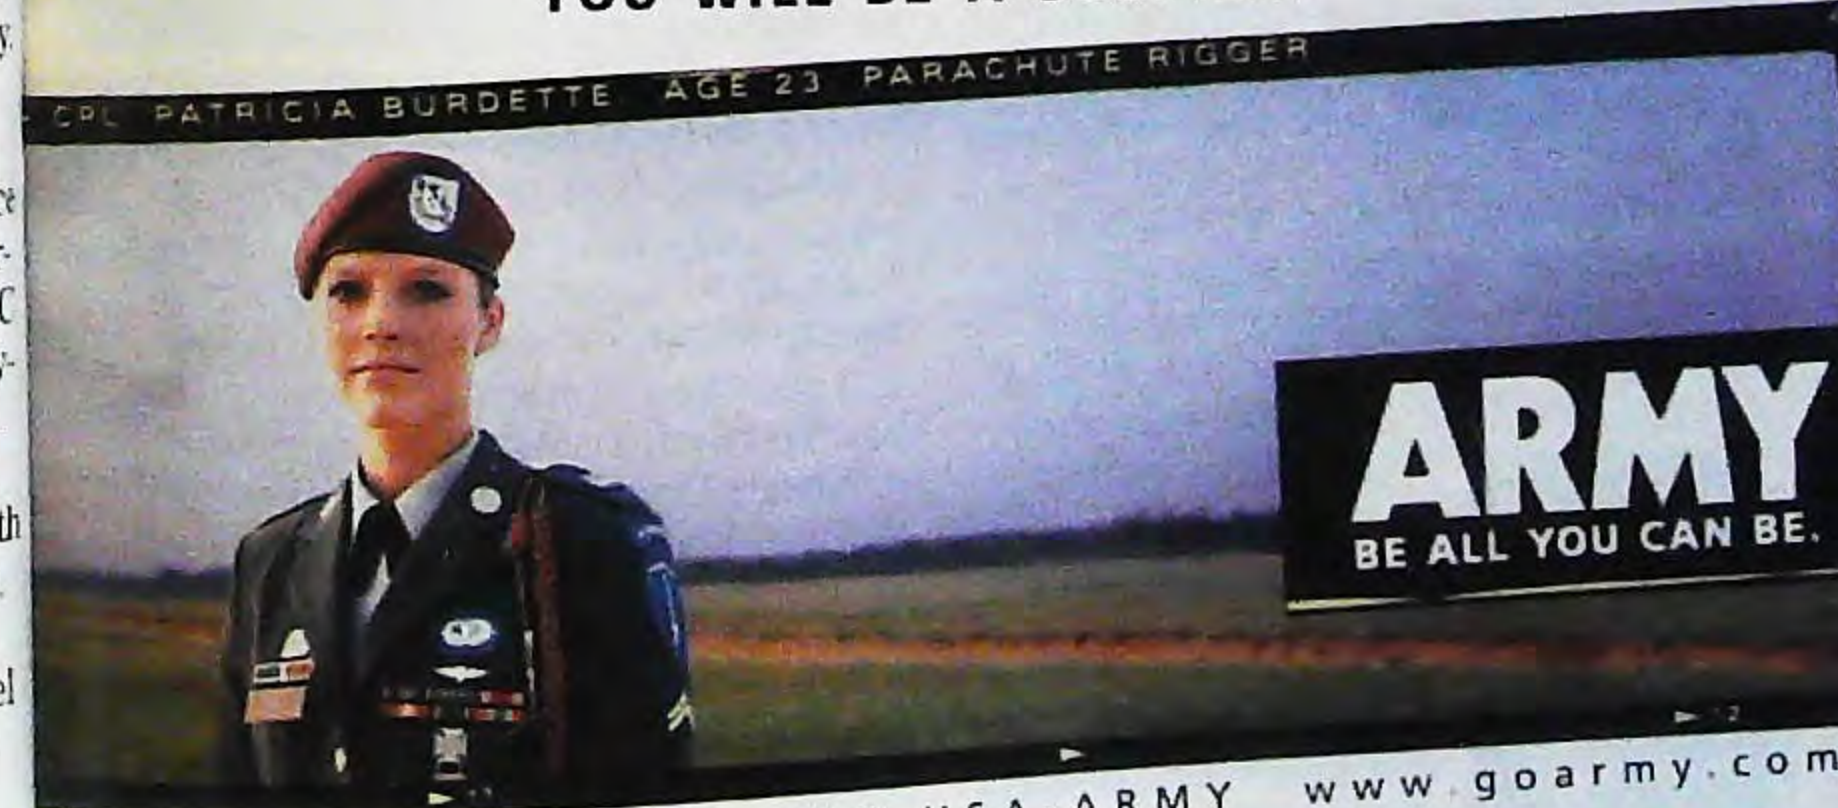

YOU'LL BE PUSHED TO THE LIMIT.

AND DISCOVER YOU HAVE NO LIMITS.

YOU WILL BE A SOLDIER.

LATE-NIGHT

Still waffling between Vibe and The Keenen Ivory Wayans Show? Well, while you're trying to make up your mind, you might also consider your other options—after all, there's more to late-night than talk shows. There's some very adult animation direct from Japan, a sketch comedy set in a sports bar, a home-shopping show live from Times Square, and two otherworldly ventures—one fictional and one, well, debatable. (All shows are syndicated, except where noted.)

BET Tonight (BET, Mondays–Thursdays at 11 P.M./ET, debuts September 15) Liberal commentator Tavis Smiley chats with celebs, politicians, and other newsmakers, while BET anchor Cheryl Martin delivers the news and covers trends in this live hour punctuated by viewer calls.

First Friday: Extreme Shopping (QVC, first Friday of each month at 1 A.M./ET, debuted September 5) Live from New York City's rejuvenated Times Square and assorted hip locales around Manhattan, the shop-till-you-drop channel offers insomniac viewers what it calls "television's first shopping variety show." Music, comedy, and celebrity appearances liven up the mix as the hosts present such outré merchandise as a lunar rover, a vintage Volkswagen beetle painted by Peter Max, and a dozen dinosaur eggs from China.

Mounties: True Stories of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (weekly, debuts September 8) They're not just cops on

FRIGHTENING STRIKES TWICE

Something scary this way comes—in the form of two new syndicated shows. Ghost Stories (weekly, debuts September 22) is an anthology series about the supernatural. Narrated by actor Rip Torn (below), each edition offers two fictional chillers. Looking Beyond (weekly, starts September 20) is a reality series with first-hand accounts of the paranormal. Now, they say fact is stranger than fiction—but can you guess which show the following scenarios belong to? Personally, we don't think you stand a ghost of a chance.

1. An intern has dreams that patients will die the day before they really do.

2. The ghost of a dead boy saves a little girl's life.
3. A man's arms and legs go up in flames four times with no rational explanation.
4. A mentally unbalanced man is prodded to murder by a malevolent demon.
5. Bad things happen when poltergeists come to dwell in a suburban family's attic.
6. A government covers up evidence of intelligently formed structures on Mars.
7. A psychiatrist at a mental hospital is haunted by images from its cruel past.
8. A huge UFO appears in the sky—and it's been here before.

BIG BUZZ PROJECT

DO YOU BELIEVE IN MAGIC?

Earvin "Magic" Johnson says he loves to ask people nosy questions almost as much as he loves to compete. The former L.A. Laker will get to do both when his talk show, The Magic Hour, enters the crowded late-night arena in midseason either on Fox or in syndication. "I've always wanted to do a talk show," Johnson says, "and so far, I'm having a lot of fun." (For starters, his pilot featured guests Mel Gibson, Cher, Tyra Banks, and Laurence Fishburne.) The guy with the big smile chose Sheila E. as his musical director, and he's closing in on a sidekick. Meanwhile, he's getting pointers from pals like Jay Leno, who told him how to nail a punch line. Johnson says sports taught him to be "unselfish, hardworking, and competitive"—traits he hopes will give his Hour the magic touch.

horses. In most of our neighbor-to-the-north's provinces, they're the CIA, FBI, and local and state police units all wrapped up into one police force. They're the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, familiarly known as the Mounties, though today, horseback is only one of their many modes of transportation—viewers of this reality show can watch them use aircraft, boats, patrol cars, and skimobiles to track down their most wanted.

The Sports Bar (weekly, debuts October 3) Andrew Alexander, the owner of the historically hilarious Second City troupe, is producing this Friday-night half-hour comedy show. Most of the sketches are set in a fictitious Chicago sports bar, but through the magic of the watering hole's big-screen TV, viewers will occasionally be transported to a sports arena or a talk-show set. The Second City ensemble will belly up to the bar with visiting alumni, former Saturday Night Live players, and sports stars. Look for bar-band gigs by guest groups.

Sushi TV (weekly, debuts January) No, it's not about raw fish—it's about raw animation. Sariah Angeline (called Kamiko on the show) hosts this anthology series that is definitely for grown-ups only. The sometimes sexy, sometimes violent stories are characterized by a sharp-edged visual style, and the plots are "very complex and futuristic," says executive producer Tom Kenney, who adds that the "female characters are usually dominant."

DAYTIME

For those of you having trouble getting your daily dose of Martha Stewart, take heart. The avatar of all things domestic is making her show available six times a week. Even without Martha, daytime has the home front covered, with new programs devoted to cooking, fitness, entertaining, pets, and home repair. There are also fresh helpings of the daytime staples, plus other new shows we're not even certain how to classify. So read on. You're sure to find something that's your cup of tea.

HOME/LIFESTYLE

B. Smith With Style (syndicated, debuts September 20) Restaurateur, author (B. Smith's Entertaining and Cooking for Friends), and former model Barbara Smith shares her secrets of living well without blowing the budget. In this half hour, Smith takes viewers into the houses and gardens of such celebrities as Al Roker—he serves up shrimp—Sugar Ray Leonard, and Rip Torn, and teaches us how to prepare a romantic dinner or create a child's fantasy bedroom.

Better Homes and Gardens (syndicated, weekly, debuted September 6) Spouses Heidi Bohay-Spound and Michael Spound, former Hotel costars, host this how-to half hour based on the venerable service magazine. Joining the couple: experts in cooking, decorating, gardening, building and remodeling, and family matters.

Great Chefs of the World (Discovery Channel, weekdays at 4:30 P.M. and Saturdays at 11 A.M., debuts September 29) If your taste buds flutter at the mere thought of such tropical flavors as mango and kiwi, here's your chance to learn to prepare the exotic fare at home. Chefs from the Caribbean, Mexico, and Central and South America take adventurous viewers with them step-by-step.

BIG BUZZ PROJECTS

OF COURTS AND KINGS

It takes a strong personality to dominate daytime, and this season, we're keeping our eye on three strong characters. Until now, Hartford news anchor Gayle King (below) has been best known as Oprah Winfrey's closest pal. Her syndicated talk show, which debuted September 8 as part of a programming bloc with Martha Stewart's series, favors fashion previews and useful topics such as air-bag safety tips. On the topic of Winfrey, King, 42, expects the daytime queen to visit. “But not in the beginning,” she says. “I want to stand on my own two feet.”

CBS News Saturday Morning, which debuts September 13, hired GOP congresswoman Susan Molinari to co-anchor with Russ Mitchell. Molinari's hiring ruffled some partisan feathers, but Molinari says she hopes “people are fair enough to judge us by the work that we do.” And when it comes to personality, you can't top the new judge on The People's Court, which returned September 8 in an expanded hour version with former New York City mayor Ed Koch (below) taking the place of Judge Wapner. Viewers get to render their own verdicts via phone, fax, and e-mail. Of course, Koch is not bound by these polls. How does Koch differ from Wapner? “It's California orange juice versus New York seltzer,” he says.

Stop his cold before it starts.

Germs have a way of spreading around the house, even when you do your best to keep them to yourself. That's why there's LYSOL® Disinfectant Spray. It kills a whole host of germs on hard surfaces, including the cold-causing rhinovirus. In fact, a recent day care center study* showed that LYSOL Spray played an important part in helping to reduce illness, keeping kids from getting sick as often. So this winter, make regular use of LYSOL Spray part of your healthy routine, along with hand washing, and kill the cold germs before they strike.

ON THE HORIZON

There's no shortage of celebrity-driven talk/variety shows in the syndication pipeline next year. Roseanne (right) tries to become daytime's newest diva with a fall 1998 debut. "I've always wanted to do this," says Roseanne. "It will be funny." Also coming in 1998: Comic Howie Mandel has made a reported $5 million deal to host a show starting next June. Donny and Marie Osmond, with Dick Clark at the controls, plan to launch next summer or fall. Meshach Taylor (Dave's World, Designing Women) looks to sell a talk/variety series that originates from Las Vegas's MGM Grand Hotel. Today show weatherman Al Roker is said to be working on a deal to develop a show that could be ready early next year. And breaking from the let's-have-fun trend, Diane Dimond (Hard Copy) is working on a news-oriented talk show.

Ladies, gentlemen, and children of all ages, it's time to enter the three-ring circus of kids' TV—a crazy cavalcade of mummies, aliens, superheroes, and Wild West icons. Welcome back such favorites as Zorro and Captain Kangaroo. Say hello to a cartoon version of the summer sci-fi smash "Men in Black." Fire up the calliope and, by all means, send in the clowns.

BROADCAST

BIG BUZZ PROJECTS

A COLORFUL CLIQUE

In the vanguard of new shows this season, you'll find a mix of puppetry, animation and live action, a blend of genders and historical eras, a combination of preschool innocence and mature sophistication.

An angular, stylized cartoon set in the Wild West, The Legend of Calamity Jane (WB, Saturdays, 10 A.M.) is "a breakthrough show, unique in the genre," says Jean MacCurdy, president of Warner Bros. TV animation. The heroine (right, voice by Jennifer Jason Leigh) is a runaway raised by a Native American tribe who uses her wits and

Channel Umptee-3 (WB, Saturdays at 8 A.M. beginning October 11) In the cartoon created by Norman Lear (All in the Family), an ostrich, a mole, and a snail establish a pirate TV station to celebrate the wonders of life.

Click (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) Pairs of teens answer her whip to aid the downtrodden.

There's a more familiar ring to The New Captain Kangaroo (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) as John McDonough, 43, slips into the comfy jacket worn for decades by Bob Keeshan. "Of course it's daunting," McDonough admits, who promising a show filled with "warmth and questions on math, science, entertainment, sports, and current events in this Merv Griffin creation. The game board is a giant computer screen, and players buzz in with tracking mouses.

City Guys (NBC, Saturdays at 10:30 A.M.) Two kids from very different backgrounds—Harlem and Park Avenue—transfer to the same New York City high school in this sitcom from Peter Engel, the maker of Saved by the Bell and Hang Time.

Disney's 101 Dalmatians: The Series (ABC, Saturdays at 8 A.M.) The canine classic recently remade as a live-action feature now reverts to cartoon form: Lucky, Rolly, Cadpig, and the other polka-dot pups live on a farm—a veritable dalmatian plantation—but still can't escape Cruella De Vil.

Disney's Pepper Ann (ABC, Saturdays at approximately 9:50 A.M.) This wry cartoon focuses on a fiercely independent girl and her roller-coaster ride through adolescence. Voices provided by Kathleen Wilhoite (Chloe on ER), Clea Lewis (Audrey on Ellen), and Don Adams.

sincerity, with attention to relationships and issues that are simple and universal." Some of those same warm, fuzzy feelings are explored in PBS's Wimzie's House (right), a preschool series set in a day-care center attended by puppets.

The star is a plucky 5-year-old hybrid (half bird, half dragon) with hot pink ponytails.

Science Court (ABC, Saturdays at 12:30 P.M.) is a cartoon that features comic Paula Poundstone as the voice of a judge who presides over cases that hinge on basic scientific principles. On the docket: evaporation and gravity. Sound dry? Executive producer Tom Snyder (Dr. Katz), a former science teach-

Disney's Recess (ABC, Saturdays at approximately 9:20 A.M.) For one enterprising group of fourth-grade kids, the playground is their oyster (except when those domineering sixth-graders are around). Dabney Coleman supplies the voice of the principal in this cartoon.

Enchanted Tales (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) This animated weekly anthology re-creates classic stories from literature, myth, and fable. Early entries include Snow White, Treasure Island, Peter Rabbit, and Hercules.

Extreme Dinosaurs (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) A group of dinosaurs reappear on Earth. Their mission: protect the planet from marauding raptors.

Extreme Ghostbusters (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) Who you gonna call? In this cartoon remake, phantoms, ghouls, and protoplasm now have to answer to a quippy crew of proton-packing teens.

Honey, I Shrunk the Kids (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) Peter Scolari er, guarantees "tons of humor." Inventive, musical, and funny, the show can be enjoyed by parents as well as kids. "The age range," says Snyder, "should be: Age 6 to Bright Adult."

CHILD'S PLAY

Youth must be served. So two of the decade's most popular and enduring game shows, Wheel of Fortune and Jeopardy!, are being rejuvenated. Wheel of Fortune 2000 (CBS, Saturdays at 8:30 A.M.) and Jep! (Game Show Network, Fridays at 8 P.M. beginning in December) are kiddie knockoffs of the syndicated staples.

While maintaining most of the original formats and objectives, both shows add contemporary touches. As Harry Friedman, executive producer of Jep!, says, "It's putting a fresh face on a classic show." On his game, for instance, the contestants (ages 10-12) will receive some clues in graphic or video form. But what things never change? The players must still put all their answers in the forms of questions.

On Wheel 2000, the teen contestants must still spin the wheel and try to spell out word puzzles, but they occasionally take time out to engage in physical challenges. And host David Sidoni (left) will be joined by an animated "virtual" cohost Lucy. "She's alive and young and has an attitude," says executive producer Scott Sternberg. "And unlike Vanna, she has something to say."

What does Merv Griffin, the creator of both Wheel and Jeopardy!, think of the new incarnations? "He was so excited," says Sternberg. "He said, 'It's about time. He was like a kid himself looking at it.'" assumes the Rick Moranis role as the accident-prone scientist in this sitcom based on the popular movie series.

Mark's Wired World (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) Mark Bunting, host and namesake of The Computer Man on The Learning Channel, guides kids through the cyberworld.

Men in Black: The Series (WB, Saturdays at 8:30 A.M. beginning October 11) Boy, that was quick. The summer movie becomes an instant fall cartoon. The premise remains the same: a team of sharp-dressed and unflappable government agents are assigned to keep the aliens among us in line.

Mowgli: The New Adventures of the Jungle Book (Fox, Saturdays beginning in January) Based on Rudyard Kipling's oft-told yarn, this series, filmed in the lush forests of Costa Rica, follows the exploits of Mowgli the jungle boy. His new pal is Nahbiri, a girl who has moved from New York City to be with her father in a small village in India.

Mr. Men (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) A hit in Europe for more than two decades, these animated shorts feature characters like Mr. Happy, Mr. Bump, and Miss Scatterbrain. Their exploits teach kids about personality traits and emotions.

Mummies Alive! (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) In this cartoon, a group of Egyptian mummies come back to life in modern-day San Francisco to watch over a 12-year-old boy with the soul of a Pharaoh.

Ned's Newt (Fox, Saturdays at 9 A.M. beginning October 18) The protagonist of this cartoon is a hyperactive boy who has a gigantic newt for a pet. But the salamander isn't much help at crunch time—it shrinks down to four inches whenever trouble strikes.

The New Adventures of Voltron (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) When five robotic lions fuse together, they form Voltron, a powerful force for good in the 25th century.

The New Batman/Superman Adventures (WB, Saturdays at 9 A.M., weekdays at 4:30 P.M.) The battle against evil never ends when you're a caped crusader. In these new cartoons, Bruce Wayne adopts 13-year-old waif Tim Drake, who becomes the new Robin. Together with Batgirl and occasionally the old Robin, now known as Nightwing, they fight crime in Gotham City. Superman is plagued by an infestation of some formidable old adversaries—Lex Luthor, Mr. Mxyzptlk, and Brainiac, to name a few.

The New Ghostwriter Mysteries (CBS, times vary) This is a slightly more mature and complex version of the mystery series that ran on PBS for three years. A trio of inquisitive kids from Brooklyn (Kristian Ayre, Erica Luttrell, and Charlotte Sullivan) solve puzzling crimes with the pen-pal help of an all-knowing invisible spirit, Ghostwriter.

Ninja Turtles: The Next Mutation (Fox, Fridays at 4:30 P.M.) If you're keeping track at home, those sewer-dwelling, pizza-chomping turtles—Leonardo, Raphael, Michaelangelo, and Donatello—began on TV as a cartoon, moved to the big-screen as live-action figures, and now return to television as full-bodied characters. But this time around, they're joined by the long lost fifth turtle—a girl!—Venus De Milo, who helps them fight their new nemesis, Dragon Skull.

Peer Pressure (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) In this game show from the producers of MTV's Singled Out, teens advance around the board by answering irreverent questions about hygiene and etiquette.

The Sports Illustrated For Kids Show (CBS, Saturdays at 11 A.M.) This magazine show profiles athletes and takes a behind-the-scenes look at the world of sports. Hosts Rebecca Budig (Guiding Light) and Eugene Byrd are joined by a celebrity cohost each week—sports stars like New York Yankee shortstop Derek Jeter, gymnast Dominique Moceanu, and San Francisco 49er quarterback Steve Young.

Einstone, the prehistoric inventor, and Freddy the Fly buzz through these shorts from the late, great animator.

The Weird Al Show (CBS, Saturdays at 11:30 A.M.) "Weird Al" Yankovic, writer and performer of pop-song parodies like "Amish Paradise" and "Eat It," hosts a wacky variety show that includes skits, animated shorts, and, of course, musical numbers. Think Pee-wee's Playhouse with a warped jukebox.

Zorro (syndicated, check TV GUIDE listings) The dashing masked hero returns in a weekly cartoon. With his horse, Toronado, and his sidekick, Bernardo, the sleek swordsman defends poor townspeople from the ravages of cruel Captain Montero.

OTTER MADNESS

Children and animals, it has often been observed, are the bane of show business. Of course, you can't get away from them on kids' TV. Those two categories pretty much own the joint. We went through the season's new shows, tallying up the various species. The children, as usual, were too numerous to count.

the Snick lineup is this comedy about an alien (Arjay Smith) stranded on Earth who finds refuge and friendship in the home of two kids (Erin Dean and Shane Sweet).

Muppets Tonight (Disney Channel, weekends at 6:30 P.M.) The bad news is that this spunky series didn't last very long on ABC last year. The good news is that the quick cancellation means there are plenty of fresh episodes left, in which Kermit, Miss Piggy, and the rest of the crew scramble to put on a live variety show each week. These never-seen shows feature such guest stars as Heather Locklear, Pierce Brosnan, Coolio, and Don Rickles.

PB&J (Disney Channel, early 1998) Three young otters named Peanut, Baby Butter, and Jelly live on a houseboat and frolic with their pond pals, the raccoons, ducks, and beavers in this cartoon for preschoolers.

Rolie Polie Olie (Disney Channel, early 1998) Celebrated children's author William Joyce created this computer-animated series about a robotic boy who lives in a mechanical world.

Skinamarink TV (The Learning Channel, weekdays at 11:30 A.M. beginning October 27) Folk singers Sharon, Lois & Bram—who are like Pearl Jam to the finger-painting set—have their own mock TV station where they put on parodies of game shows, exercise programs, detective dramas, and the late, late movie.

A Guide to

How to get the most from our program listings

THE GRIDS

To find our daily at-a-glance grid of evening listings, hold the magazine with the back cover facing you, and fan the pages. Distinctive black-and-white bars indicate the grids. In some editions, the number of channels requires the grids to be more than two pages. Program notes on the top of our listings pages also tell you where to find the grids, as well as other important information.

TV GUIDELINES

This column provides a list each day of notable programming as well as shows and films screened and recommended by the editors of TV GUIDE. They appear on the page before each night's grids.

CLOSE-UPS and EDITORS' CHOICE

These quarter-page and half-page features spotlight notable shows (Close-Ups) and those that the editors of TV GUIDE think are especially worth readers' attention after being previewed by us (Editors' Choice). They appear throughout the magazine.

MOVIES

- Within the daily program listings, theatrical movies are identified by the symbol , followed by their rating:  (excellent),  (good),  (fair), or  (poor). Our ratings are based on a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned, and box-office. A Four-Star Movies guide in the pages before the listings breaks out each week's excellent films.
- TV GUIDE identifies movies made for television with this symbol: . These movies are not assigned star ratings.
- Movies released directly to video are identified with this symbol: . These films are also not assigned star ratings.
- At the back of the magazine, our Premium Channels Movie Guide offers synopses each week of at least 300 movies appearing on premium cable channels.

DAILY LISTINGS

- Black channel bullets [  ] generally designate those broadcast channels that are in the main market area for an edition, with white bullets [  ] indicating channels in outlying areas. In some editions, different bullets are used instead to differentiate between equal but different markets.
- Cable channels [  ] are marked with white bullets and an abbreviated letter designation.
- In some of our cable-specific editions, the additional white bullets following a broadcast channel or cable channel designation [  ] tell you the number you actually turn to on your television or cable box to receive that channel. (In some editions, smaller cable systems may not be represented by these additional bullets.) If there is no second number for a broadcast station, then its cable channel number is identical to its off-air number.
- The series of numbers in light type that appear after the running time or at the end of a listing are VCR Plus+™ PlusCodes™, for viewers who have purchased a VCR Plus+™ taping device.
- The symbol  indicates a show that a local station has designated as having educational or informational value for children.
- Listings also include icons indicating how a show has been rated nationally by the television industry for parental guidance, either  or  for children's programming or  for regular programming. A key with full definitions of these icons appears elsewhere in the magazine.

Miss America: There she is, more than ever

As the 1990 Miss Maine, I am disappointed that the Miss America Pageant is now sacrificing integrity and elegance for TV ratings ["Beauty and the Bikini," August 23]. The swimsuit competition is part of tradition. But the one-piece suit should not be retired merely because viewers need to see more flesh.

Ann E. Rowe
Tallahassee, Fla.

Come on, gang. If it's a "scholarship contest," not a beauty contest, why are there no ugly Miss Americas?

Lester Heverling
Schenectady, N.Y.

There are two reasons why the Miss America Pageant still exists in modern times. One is to give millions of men a few hours to imagine themselves in bed with 51 different beautiful women. The other is to make certain women realize that it will never be enough to just be intelligent.

Liz Krafnick
Stratford, Conn.

Eager Beaver fans

Thanks for the tribute to Leave It to Beaver ["Beaver's Tale," August 23]. As a minority baby boomer, the exploits of the Beav always rang true to life for both my friends and me. But sometimes I wonder how race relations would have been furthered had one of Beav's friends been black.

Paul R. Jefferson
Wilmington, N.C.

I was disheartened to see that Hugh Beaumont was barely mentioned in what should have been a touching epitaph. Surely a few

Comedy Goes More Central with Park

Ratings boomlet at cable channel can be traced to this summer's ha-ha harvest of original programs

When Doug Herzog was named president and CEO of Comedy Central two years ago, the network's prospects were no laughing matter. Two of its highest-rated shows were running out of fresh episodes, and there was little in the pipeline to take their place.

"We knew AbFab had run its course and that Politically Incorrect would soon be on its way to ABC," says Herzog, who came to Comedy Central from MTV. "We knew it would take time to fill the gap and to expand our original programming base."

Meanwhile, Comedy Central's ratings had stalled, and its two corporate parents, Viacom and Time Warner, were getting impatient with seeing tens of millions of dollars of red ink. Making matters worse, some of the most powerful cable companies around the country were threatening to throw the channel from their systems if improvements weren't made.

What a difference two years can make. According to Herzog, the network will end 1997 "a few million in the black," and it will be available in 50 million homes. In August, it had its highest ratings ever, a prime-time average of 0.6—miniscule by broadcast standards but approaching cable mainstays CNN and MTV, both of which averaged 0.8 during the same period.

Most satisfying for Herzog and company is the fact that original programming—The Daily Show, Win Ben Stein's Money, and Viva Variety, among others—constitutes the backbone of the newfound success. In addition, Comedy Central has received both critical raves and big ratings for its riskiest offering, South Park, a cartoon series that would give even Beavis and Butt-head pause. Herzog admits there has been an episode or two of the animated series that have "caused me to do a lot of nail-biting and my ulcer to act up." It's worth the indigestion: South Park is Comedy Central's highest-rated original show.

South Park: Hot new show

For Herzog, there's also a certain amount of competitive pleasure in the cable channel's current upswing. "Oh, I know MTV would have loved to have gotten South Park," he says. "It's been a while since they've had a Beavis & Butt-head."

Some critics contend that Comedy Central is still too dependent on reruns of such shows as Saturday Night Live and movies such as "Ferris Bueller's Day Off" and "Caddyshack" to boost ratings. Herzog and crew counter that nearly 40 percent of current programming is original; 50 percent is the goal by the end of 1998.

"Comedy Central started out to do the most difficult thing—be funny—and it is succeeding," says media consultant Larry Gerbrandt of Paul Kagan Associates. "Viacom and Time Warner have probably invested more than $150 million in the venture, and they're just starting to make money. But I doubt either side wants to sell to the other one. They have a network that is easily worth $500 million. If it keeps going the way it is, it could be worth two to three times that amount. Look at the Family Channel: It sold for $1.5 billion."

EMMY PREVIEW

Who Should Win and Who Will Win

BY DANIEL HOWARD CERONE

Life's not always fair. Those we feel deserve to win at this year's Emmy Awards (September 14, CBS) aren't always the ones we predict actually will. (● should; ♦ will)

DRAMA SERIES

Chicago Hope

♦ ER

Law & Order

NYPD Blue

● The X-Files

One day voters will realize there's tremendous drama in fear, and honor The X-Files for such innovative tales as last season's episode about a cancer-eating man. In the meantime, we expect a second straight win by ER, the torchbearer for TV dramas.

Edwards

LEAD ACTRESS IN A DRAMA SERIES

♦ Gillian Anderson, The X-Files
Roma Downey, Touched by an Angel
Christine Lahti, Chicago Hope
● Julianna Margulies, ER
Sherry Stringfield, ER

Since Anderson's character was diagnosed with cancer last season, she should be able to impress the TV academy. Although we can make an excellent case for the dynamic Margulies: She was terrific as a hostage in a minimart.

LEAD ACTOR IN A DRAMA SERIES

● David Duchovny, The X-Files
Anthony Edwards, ER
Dennis Franz, NYPD Blue
♦ Jimmy Smits, NYPD Blue
Sam Waterston, Law & Order

Duchovny should win for satirizing his own image on The X-Files in the episode he submitted. But it was really Jimmy Smits's year on NYPD Blue. Academy voters who watched him go after the guy who abused Det. Russell won't soon forget it.

COMEDY SERIES

Frasier

♦ ♦ The Larry Sanders Show

Mad About You

Seinfeld

3rd Rock from the Sun

There's nothing to prevent Frasier from winning a fourth straight year, except for the growing recognition of HBO, which has more nominations than any other network. And The Larry Sanders Show has more nominations than any other comedy series. We give it to Larry Sanders in a close vote.

LEAD ACTOR IN A COMEDY SERIES

Michael J. Fox, Spin City
Kelsey Grammer, Frasier
♦ John Lithgow, 3rd Rock from the Sun
Paul Reiser, Mad About You
● Garry Shandling, The Larry Sanders Show

This category promises to be a battle royal for years to come between Grammer and Lithgow. Grammer won two years in a row before Lithgow stole the honor last year. The advantage goes to Lithgow again—though Shandling gets our vote for pulling off the hardest trick of all: creating a less than lovable character who makes you laugh.

Lithgow

LEAD ACTRESS IN A COMEDY SERIES

♦ ♦ Ellen DeGeneres, Ellen
Fran Drescher, The Nanny
Helen Hunt, Mad About You
Patricia Richardson, Home Improvement

Cybill Shepherd, Cybill

You'll be guaranteed at least one office-pool Emmy win if you check DeGeneres here. Ellen Morgan's tentative emergence from the closet was TV comedy at its best—funny and touching—made even more powerful by the coming out of DeGeneres herself. After leaving empty-handed in two previous nominations, DeGeneres is a sure thing this year.

Streep

MINISERIES

● In Cold Blood

The Last Don

♦ The Odyssey

Prime Suspect 5: Errors of Judgment

Stephen King's The Shining

This is a bloated, overwrought field: The Odyssey was too serious (and unintentionally goofy), The Last Don too glitzy, Stephen King's The Shining too long. Even Prime Suspect seems to be running out of steam. That leaves a solid In Cold Blood. But watch for a sweep by The Odyssey.

TV-MOVIE

● Bastard Out of Carolina

Gotti

If These Walls Could Talk

In the Gloaming

♦ Miss Evers' Boys

As usual, HBO competes with itself, save Showtime's Bastard Out of Carolina, our choice. While Christopher Reeve directed In the Gloaming, and Sissy Spacek, Demi Moore, and Cher teamed for If These Walls Could Talk, Miss Evers' Boys wins for its portrayal of the government's cruel experimentation on black men with syphilis.

Fishburne, Woodard

LEAD ACTRESS IN A MINISERIES OR SPECIAL

Stockard Channing, An Unexpected Family

Glenn Close, In the Gloaming

Helen Mirren, Prime Suspect 5: Error of Judgment

♦ Meryl Streep, First Do No Harm

● Alfre Woodard, Miss Evers' Boys

Woodard was given the rarest of roles—one entailing the entire range of human emotions—as a nurse caring for syphilis victims, and she acquits herself brilliantly. But somehow we think the academy will be too awed by Streep not to honor her as the mother searching for a cure for her epileptic boy in First Do No Harm.

LEAD ACTOR IN A MINISERIES OR SPECIAL

♦ ♦ Armand Assante, Gotti

Beau Bridges, Hidden in America

Robert Duvall, The Man Who Captured Eichmann

Laurence Fishburne, Miss Evers' Boys
Sidney Poitier, Mandela and de Klerk
Duvall's an academy favorite, and Bridges gave what felt like a career performance as a tragic, destitute father in Hidden in America. But Assante was Gotti. Anyone who saw the movie—and all of the voters did—has to agree.

Assante

VARIETY, MUSIC OR COMEDY SERIES

Dennis Miller Live

Late Show With David Letterman

The Tonight Show With Jay Leno

Tracey Takes On...

We picked Politically Incorrect last season, and we're going to keep picking it until it wins. Actually, Maher, who moved to ABC in January, did gain lots of attention last season for his smart mix of comedy and confrontations. He should edge out last year's winner, Dennis Miller Live.

Oscar De La Hoya Hector Camacho

WBC welterweight champ Oscar De La Hoya (25-0, 21 KOs) takes on Hector "Macho" Camacho (64-3-1, 32 KOs) in Las Vegas. (Live)

De La Hoya is no fan of the flamboyant Camacho's brash persona. "[Camacho] is a clown in the ring, a showman and a loudmouth," says De La Hoya. "I just take care of business." And that will take more than talk. "My goal is to knock him out. That's the reason I'm so up for this fight, because it's never been done." Camacho last fought as a 160-pound middleweight and needs to get down to 147 for this contest. "He says he feels fine," says De La Hoya. "But it's a long way to come down."

Tara Holland

The women vying for the title of Miss America 1998 have the option of wearing a bikini in the swimsuit competition as the annual pageant undergoes "an evening of firsts," according to producer Jeff Margolis.

In other departures, contestants may wear something other than a gown during the newly titled "Evening Wear" competition; a married couple (Eva LaRue and John Callahan) host the event; and Nancy Glass interviews the finalists. The changes are an effort to "contemporize the look and feel of the show," Margolis says. One thing hasn't changed. Miss America 1997, Tara Holland, crowns her successor. (Live; 2:30)

TV's Big Night

The industry honors last season's best television. According to executive producer Don Mischer, the Emmys offer "more awards per hour than any other awards show. That means you have a lot less time for other entertainment. It's the news aspect that makes people want to watch...who's winning, what they're going to say, what they're wearing." Still, he does plan entertainment segments, which are slated to include a piece on TV's "new, expanded reality" from Millennium to 3rd Rock from the Sun; a salute to people behind the camera; and a tribute to those who have passed away, such as programming wizard Brandon Tartikoff. As for first-time host Bryant Gumbel, Mischer admits, "A lot of people have said to me 'Aren't you worried? Isn't it a liability not to have a song-and-dance man or comic up there?' I think it's going to be an asset. A host...is someone who needs to efficiently and gracefully get you through this evening. Bryant's going to do that really well." (Live) [See the Preview following The Robins Report.]

DUMB AND DUMBER
SUN. 7 PM (TBS)

Jim Carrey takes slapstick and lowbrow humor to a new level in this 1994 farce. Carrey plays doltish limo driver Lloyd Christmas, who falls head over heels for a passenger (Lauren Holly) headed for Aspen. When Lloyd discovers that she's left her briefcase at the airport, the smitten dimwit enlists a dopey pal (Jeff Daniels) to take a cross-country road trip to return the goods. It turns out that the briefcase contains ransom money, and their plan interferes with a kidnapping scheme. The oblivious duo sets out for Colorado, evading the police—and would-be-killers—every step of the way. Directed by Peter Farrelly (2:15)

Carrey

Cybill Shepherd

Cybill travels back in time to 16th-century England for a waggish fourth-season opener. At the end of last season, Maryann discovered old feelings for her old Richard, while Cybill found new feelings for Maryann's new Richard. To help sort out her emotions, Cybill consults a psychiatrist (Nora Dunn). Under hypnosis, she's transported to a past life as a minstrel in the court of Henry VIII (Tim Maculan, who also plays the Trattoria's waiter). She also finds Ira (who was her brother), Zoey (their father), Justin (a serving wench) and Maryann (whose identity provides a revelation as to why she's losing her head over her ax, er, ex).

Scott Simon

A witty examination of a widespread social "affliction" that the documentary defines as the "unhappy condition of overload, debt, anxiety and waste resulting from the dogged pursuit of 'more'." Humorous vignettes, case studies and comments from experts expose the roots of the malady. "Symptoms" include "shopping fever"; chronic stress, materialism (especially among young people); debt; and lower-quality family life. Affluenza's "opponents" span the ideological spectrum, from "uncommercial" activists to the conservative group Focus on the Family. "Untreated," warns host Scott Simon, "[affluenza] can cause permanent discontent." (2.00)

Recommended Viewing...

☐ Movie: Clint Eastwood's a troubled Secret Service agent and Oscar nominee John Malkovich is a killer bent on assassinating the President in 1993's "In the Line of Fire," a riveting★★★ thriller. The film benefits from the crisp direction of Wolfgang Petersen. —6:30 PM (32); 7 PM (28); 8 PM (55)

☐ Movie: Kevin Costner's no Errol Flynn, but 1991's "Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves" ★★★ is kept on target with plenty of action and Alan Rickman's deliciously hammy Sheriff of Nottingham. —7 PM (2) (15) (22)

☐ A Question of Genes: Inherited Risks is a thoughtful and poignant examination of issues surrounding genetic testing. —9 PM (34) (39); 1 AM [Early Wed.], 3 AM [Early Wed.] (39)

Also of Note...

☐ A Home Improvement repeat follows the preparations for Al and Ilene's wedding. —8 PM (7) (21) (53)

☐ Shot in stark black and white, Songs in Shadow: The Making of Carly Simon's 'Film Noir' observes the singer as she records her album. —8 PM, 11:45 PM (AMC)

☐ Talk about styles that clash! "Quiet, boring" Carter briefly takes up with the flamboyant Isaac Mizrahi in a funny Spin City repeat. —8:30 PM (7) (21) (53)

☐ A repeat of the NYPD Blue season finale brings the story arc involving Simone, the FBI and the IAB to an explosive—and surprising—climax that will have repercussions in the new fall episodes. —9 PM (7) (21) (53)

TV GUIDE'S MOVIE RATINGS

Theatrical movies are indicated in the daily listings by the symbol M plus a rating of ★★★★ (excellent), ★★★ (good), ★★ (fair) or ★ (poor). Our evaluations are based on a number of factors, including a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned and box-office performance. Movies may be edited for television; our ratings are based on the original, complete film. An M without stars indicates an unrated theatrical movie. TV GUIDE does not evaluate a movie if the criteria can't be applied because too few facts are known (example: a minor foreign film); if the film belongs to a formulaic genre (such as B-Westerns); or if the film is made-for-television (indicated with M+T) or direct-to-video (MPV).

TV GUIDELINES

Recommended Viewing...

☐ Full Circle with Michael Palin follows the Monty Python alum on an exhilarating 10-episode trek around the Pacific Rim, starting on an island in the Bering Strait. —1 PM ☐ Movie: "A League of Their Own." Penny Marshall tried mightily not to oversentimentalize her ★★ 1992 comedy about a WWII-era women's baseball team, but it does have its teary-eyed moments. —7:30 PM

Also of Note...

☐ Marlon returns home after a stint in a musical as The Wayans Bros. raise the curtain on their fourth season. Success, however, seems to have gone to Marlon's head. —8 PM

☐ Soprano Renee Fleming is a guest soloist with Kurt Masur and the New York Philharmonic on Live from Lincoln Center, celebrating the music director's 70th birthday with a gala 1997-98 opening-night concert. —8 PM 2 AM [Early Thurs.]

☐ Bailey's battle with the bottle continues as Party of Five enters its fourth season with this well-crafted episode. This time, his problems involve the law. See the Close-up on p. 250. —8 PM 9 PM

☐ Police corruption is the focus of a gritty Law & Order repeat that finds even Briscoe under suspicion for stealing drugs. —9 PM

☐ The Merrow Report concludes its examination of the overhauling of the Philadelphia public-school system. —10 PM

TOUCHED BY AN ALIEN

Debut: A sci-fi series from Dean Devlin and Roland Emmerich ("Independence Day") about a presumed-dead 1940s military pilot who's catapulted into the present. As the story opens, an unidentified aircraft crash-lands in Utah. Fingerprints reveal the flier to be Adam MacArthur (John Corbett), who disappeared in 1947. "We're chasing a ghost," says a National Security official to the FBI agent in charge. Meanwhile, MacArthur takes refuge with a single mother (Lucinda Jenny) and her troubled son. While recuperating, he displays extraordinary physical and mental powers—and suffers troubling visions about an experience that left him "changed." (1:00)

THE TERROR CONTINUES

In last May's cliffhanger, Frank Black's wife, Catherine, mysteriously vanished at the airport. Now we find out why. She was abducted by an intelligent, weird and extremely dangerous psychopath—the Polaroid Man (Doug Hutchinson), who's been tracking Black (Lance Henriksen) since the series' first episode. As the second-season opener unfolds, scenes shift between Frank's desperate search for his wife and the cunning attempts of his nemesis to brainwash Catherine and lure her husband into a trap. Ultimately, of course, there's a violent showdown, which dramatically alters the Blacks' lives. Catherine: Megan Gallagher. (1:00)

Cop buddies Nash Bridges and Joe Dominguez (Don Johnson, Cheech Marin) return in a rollicking third-season opener.

The two are in hot pursuit of car thieves who've stolen high-powered weapons from a hapless FBI Special Agent (Christopher Rich), whose personal interest in the case causes comic complications for Nash and Joe. Along the way, they cross swords with a streetwise undercover detective (new cast member Kelly Hu), whose style reminds Nash of himself as a younger man. And, despite the frenetic action, Nash finds time for a blind date with the nanny (Susan Walters) of Joe's daughter. (1:00) words about what he thought of his character, a father who actually had some dignity and tried to be a cogent head of an intelligent family, would have been more than justified.

LETTERS

Evan M. Torch
Atlanta

Thirteen Angry Men

I cannot believe that you allowed two errors in your article on the Jack Lemmon remake of "12 Angry Men" ["Jack in the Jury Box," August 16]. In the first place, director Sidney Lumet's name is not spelled "Sydney." And second, "12 Angry Men" was originally presented as a live TV drama, three years before the release of the theatrical movie. Reginald Rose wrote "12 Angry Men" for CBS's Studio One, which was telecast on September 20, 1954, with Robert Cummings in the role Henry Fonda played in the 1957 movie.

Barry J. Grauman
Long Branch, N.J.

TV Is More Than Good

I'm writing about The Robins Report in your August 23 issue, headlined "Bad News for 'TV Is Good' Campaign." The so-called ABC "research" that you cite was either a hoax or a total fabrication—it did not come from our network or ad agency (for example, some of the spots that you report "results" for were shows that ABC did not even test). We do have one research document that directly contradicts the negative results that Mr. Robins reported. Common sense says that if we had research that was as bad as you claim, we obviously would have never launched the campaign.

Alan Cohen
Executive V.P., ABC

Editor's note: We stand by Mr. Robins's reporting.

TV GUIDE'S MOVIE SYMBOLS AND RATINGS

Theatrical movies are indicated in the daily listings by the symbol M plus a rating of ★★★★ (excellent), ★★★ (good), ★★ (fair) or ★ (poor). Our evaluations are based on a number of factors, including a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned and box-office performance. Movies may be edited for television; our ratings are based on the original, complete film. An M without stars indicates an unrated theatrical movie. TV GUIDE does not evaluate movies if the criteria can't be applied because too few facts are known (example: a minor foreign film); if the film belongs to a formulaic genre (such as B-Westerns); or if the film is made-for-television (indicated with M-TV) or direct-to-video (M-DV).

PARENTAL GUIDANCE

The official MPAA content rating (G, PG, PG-13, R or NC-17) is provided for every film that has received one (NR: not rated). We also offer advisories about content (adult themes, sexual situations, strong language, violence or nudity), but parents should be aware that films containing adult themes or sexual situations frequently involve nudity, even though our advisory may not explicitly say so.

THE PATRIC WALKER HOROSCOPE

BY SALLY BROMPTON

♈ ARIES (March 21-April 20): An unexpected occurrence or encounter may stop you in your tracks, but that's no reason to delay or discard planned changes to your life. Turning a blind eye to physical and emotional needs is shortsighted and ultimately self-destructive.

For your extended Aries horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5558*

♉ TAURUS (April 21-May 21): You seem to be in need of some excitement—especially where your closest relationships are concerned. With your romantic ruler Venus linked to unpredictable Uranus on Tuesday, it could come from an unexpected source. To make the most of it, be flexible.

For your extended Taurus horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5559*

♊ GEMINI (May 22-June 21): This is a week to play the game rather than worry about the odds. Tuesday's Lunar Eclipse at the mid-heaven point of your chart signifies changes to your status that have little to do with failure or success. Concentrate on the means rather than the end.

For your extended Gemini horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5560*

♋ CANCER (June 22-July 23): Break with routine and embark upon something different or exciting this week. The world is full of people, places and ideas that seem to have eluded you until now. There are times when innovation must replace habit, and this is one of those moments.

For your extended Cancer horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5561*

♌ LEO (July 24-Aug. 23): Your natural generosity should be curbed this week, even if it means saying no to someone whose support you think you need. Don't worry—the situation is about to improve by leaps and bounds.

For your extended Leo horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5562*

♍ VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23): What transpires near Tuesday's Eclipse should convince you that you cannot blame yourself for other's shortcomings. Successful relationships tend to be based on trust, need and understanding. How many of those factors apply in this instance?

For your extended Virgo horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5563*

♎ LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23): The emphasis is on romance, creativity and finances, but don't expect anything to turn out as expected. With your ruler Venus linked to the planet of surprise, Uranus, and encouraging you to experiment, be prepared to adapt to unusual circumstances.

For your extended Libra horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5564*

♏ SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22): Even though you want to follow a certain course of action, you must be sure that the possible outcome will fulfill your expectations. Tuesday's Lunar Eclipse demands some kind of decision. Base it on facts rather than dreams.

For your extended Scorpio horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5565*

♐ SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): An ongoing ambition is hindered by your sense of duty, and you need to be certain that you are not overestimating your obligations. Feeling the way you do is admirable, but not if it prevents you from acknowledging genuine priorities.

For your extended Sagittarius horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5566*

♑ CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20): Social and travel engagements are highlighted this week as a result of Tuesday's Eclipse, but you can't let others take control of what should be a joint affair. This is your baby—get involved.

For your extended Capricorn horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5567*

♒ AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): Avoid being overly assertive with an authority figure—a diplomatic approach will reap greater benefits. The influence of your ruler Uranus may encourage you to speak your mind, but it's best to keep quiet.

For your extended Aquarius horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5568*

♓ PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20): This week's Lunar Eclipse in your birth sign enables you to evaluate your achievements over the last six months—and to plan the next half year. In particular, a special relationship needs to be examined.

For your extended Pisces horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5569*
